JFK's Action May Bring Quick Halt to Lockheed Strike

Taft-Hartley Law Invoked By President

Work On Vital Missile, Plane Projects Stopped

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—President Kennedy's swift recourse to the Taft-Hartley Act raises the probability that the strike against Lockheed Aircraft Corp. will be halted soon — perhaps within a week.

In the meantime, says the union, work on the vital missile and plane projects has been halted. But the firm says work is continuing.

Only hours after the International Association of Machinists struck the giant aerospace firm Wednesday, the President invoked the labor act, saying the strike would "imperil the national health and safety" if permitted to continue.

Names 3-Man Board

Kennedy appointed a three-man board to look into the dispute and report to him no later than Monday.

On the basis of that report, the President will decide whether to ask federal court for a Taft-Hartley injunction, which would suspend the strike for 80 days. New efforts to reach agreement could be made during this "cooling-off" period.

News files indicate a presidential request for such an injunction has never been denied.

The chairman of the President's three-man board is Prof. Arthur M. Ross, director of the University of California Institute of Industrial Relations. He announced shortly after his appointment the board will meet in Los Angeles Friday with Lockheed and union representatives.

Union Shop Proposal

The principal unresolved issue is whether Lockheed employees in California, Florida and Hawaii will be permitted to vote on a union shop proposal. Under a union shop, all eligible workers have to join the union to keep their jobs.

A special board appointed by the President earlier this year recommended that union shop elections be conducted at aerospace firms. But Lockheed refused to allow such an election, saying it was unalterably opposed to any form of compulsory unionism.

The machinists said they would accept no contract until a union shop election was held. President Thomas McNitt of Machinists' District 727 said Wednesday that "when the (Taft-Hartley) injunction is invoked we will make every effort to obtain the type of contract that we sought in our

Hays Says NATO Delegates Laud U.S. Cuban Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—At least 100 delegates at the NATO parliamentary conference in Paris "came up to me and congratulated me on the way the United States handled the Cuban crisis," reports Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio.

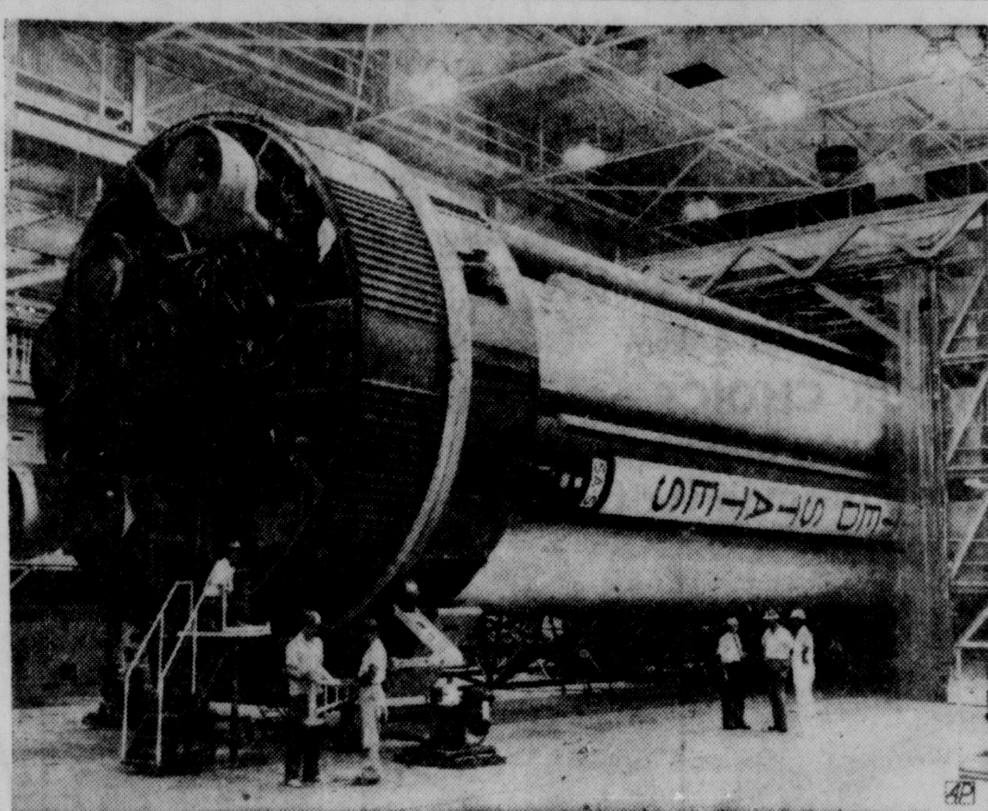

Just back from Europe, the 18th District congressman said he found the general feeling among the NATO delegates was that the Cuban developments were a boost for the Free World and a setback for the Communists.

Hays said he believes the NATO alliance is stronger than ever "as far as mutual understanding is concerned" as a result of the showdown over Cuba.

In an interview Hays disagreed with others back from the Paris conference like Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., who said NATO was critically short of military forces because most member nations weren't meeting their commitments.

"The fact remains that the Soviets haven't attacked Europe or gained a square mile of ground," Hays said. "But they probably would have if it hadn't been for NATO."

Unlikely To Get Clear Response

Kennedy To Probe Mikoyan On Easing World Tensions

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy wants to get first-hand facts from Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan today on whether Premier Khrushchev now wishes to move beyond the Cuban crisis and ease U.S.-Soviet tensions on other issues.

The President is unlikely to get a clear response to his probing, officials said, but he may obtain a better personal impression of the future course of Soviet policy.

Kennedy is scheduled to confer with Mikoyan late today. Mikoyan, who has completed weeks of talks with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, was due to arrive here from New York shortly before noon.

The Soviet trouble-shooter intends to remain until Friday. Thus he may return to the White House for another conference if progress is made in his meeting with Kennedy today.

Mikoyan will also confer with other administration officials. Secretary of State Dean Rusk has invited him to lunch Friday and Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall will be host at a dinner tonight at Udall's home. Mikoyan was one of Udall's hosts last summer when the secretary toured the Soviet Union.

The President was expected to emphasize to Mikoyan that the United States will either get international safeguards for the removal of Soviet nuclear weapons from Cuba or it will continue its surveillance indefinitely.

He was also expected to stress heavily that his no-invasion pledge does not mean U.S. acceptance of or protection for the Castro regime. It means, officials said, that the United States does not choose to try to destroy Castro by military means but will use such means if necessary in response to any Cuban aggression.

Khrushchev sent Mikoyan to Havana Nov. 3. He came back to New York last Monday, having spent a little more than three weeks on a mission he never explained to U.S. officials and about which they are still mystified. If he was trying to get Castro to accept international inspection in Cuban territory, he failed.

While he was there, however, the Soviet government did remove 42 nuclear missiles from Cuba under partial U.S. scrutiny and Khrushchev promised a week ago that in 30 days he would take out nuclear-capable IL28 jet bombers.

Car On Fire, Driver Goes To Station

It's not often that Salem city firemen have a fire brought to them for extinction, but that's what happened at 1:05 a. m. today.

Driving up to the back door of the fire department, Roger L. Knauf of RD 3, Canfield, requested aid of the local firemen in putting out a fire in the back seat of his car. The firemen responded immediately, of course. Only a cushion in the car was damaged.

Defendant To Testify In Fund Shortage

LISBON — Miss Roberta C. Smith, ex-city water department chief of East Liverpool, was expected to take the witness stand today to tell her story about the fund shortage as the embezzlement trial moved through the fourth day.

Miss Smith, 37, was indicted for a shortage of $23,841. She maintains she "covered up" losses at the request of Frank Robinson, director, who died in 1961.

The defense opened its case this morning with character witnesses for the defendant.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw ended the state's case at 2 p.m. Wednesday, and Atty. Frank Springer of East Palestine then asked for a directed verdict of acquittal, but was overruled by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp.

The defendant's first character witness was Rev. Rudolph M. Miller of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church in East Liverpool when trial began at 9:30 this morning. Others testifying for Miss Smith were Alfred E. Bailey, Delmas L. Sanford, Mary McCullough, May Hartt and I. J. Vordran, ex-county auditor. All are from East Liverpool.

It is not expected that the trial will be completed today and if not, it will be continued till Monday.

Presumably Mikoyan decided to come here upon instructions of Khrushchev. Since he was forced to back down in Cuba, the Soviet premier has thrown out a number of hints or comments about extending an improvement in U.S.-Soviet relations into other fields. But there have been no concrete moves.

Increases of four to six in Canton, seven to ten in Toledo, and seven to nine in Youngstown also were reported.

Cleveland had fewer murders, 44 compared to 51 in the 9-month 1961 period. They dropped from 11 to 10 in Akron, 30 to 27 in Cincinnati, 17 to 16 in Dayton.

Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus and Dayton all had boosts in forcible rape cases with Cincinnati leading the list at 75, compared to 62 last year.

Following is a breakdown on seven categories of crime in Ohio cities for the 1962 period (with 1961 figures in parentheses):
AKRON—Murder 11 (10), forcible rape 15 (15), robbery 182 (190), aggravated assault 46 (75), burglary 1,368 (1,408), larceny 863 (866) and auto theft 1,157 (1,134).
CANTON—Murder 6 (4), forcible rape 2 (3), robbery 30 (35), aggravated assault 9 (9), burglary 388 (525), larceny 309 (328) and auto theft 145 (112).
CINCINNATI—Murder 27 (30), forcible rape 75 (62), robbery 202 (152), aggravated assault 507 (224), burglary 1,331 (1,265), larceny 954 (993) and auto theft 680 (565).

CLEVELAND—Murder 44 (51), forcible rape 36 (32), robbery 765 (841), aggravated assault 632 (353), burglary 2,407 (2,588), larceny 927 (906) and auto theft 1,909 (1,839).

COLUMBUS — Murder 22 (19), forcible rape 32 (28), robbery 244 (381), aggravated assault 404 (476), burglary 2,593 (2,587), larceny 1,608 (1,570) and auto theft 1,215 (886).
DAYTON — Murder 16 (17), forcible rape 22 (12), robbery 166 (167), aggravated assault 222 (242), burglary 1,568 (1,574), larceny 431 (463) and auto theft 471 (468).

TOLEDO — Murder 1: (7), forcible rape 18 (24), robbery 229 (224), aggravated assault 165 (149), burglary 1,276 (1,441), larceny 1,288 (1,291) and auto theft 370 (337).

YOUNGSTOWN—Murder 9 (7), forcible rape 1 (2), robbery 106 (66), aggravated assault 13 (18), burglary 781 (856) larceny 397 (440) and auto theft 300 (230).

Railroads Act To Lop Off Featherbed Jobs

Firms Given Green Light by Appellate Court

Leaders of Unions Plan Next Moves In Labor Dispute

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's railroads steamed ahead today with plans to eliminate 65,000 so-called featherbed jobs as union leaders sought a way to sidetrack the drastic work cuts.

The carriers were given another green light Wednesday by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in their fight to eliminate jobs they claim are unneeded and effect a saving of more than $592 million a year.

Leaders of five operating rail unions, representing the men who actually man the trains, studied the decision to map plans for the next move in the dispute which began in 1959.

Uphold Earlier Ruling

Three Appeals Court judges upheld an earlier ruling in U.S. District Court that a union injunction suit to stop the carriers from effecting the rules changes did not properly state a cause for a permanent injunction.

The judges also ruled that a temporary injunction issued by U.S. District Court Judge Joseph Sam Perry in October, preventing the rules changes until the Appeals Court acted, was proper.

Charles Luna, president-elect of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said his union plans to take the case to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Luna said the five unions—firemen, engineers, trainmen, conductors and switchmen—will meet Monday in Washington to decide on their next joint move.

Threatened To Strike

The unions previously have threatened to strike if the work rule changes are instituted by the railroads. Such a strike could spark a major rail labor crisis.

However, observes in the Appeals Court pointed out that the current ruling has built-in delays which could mean more months of courtroom maneuvers.

One possible reaction in the dispute is the appointment of an emergency board by the President. Such a move by President Kennedy, under terms of the Railway Labor Act, would postpone both rule change and strike for 60 days, possibly longer.

Wednesday's opinion said evidence indicated the carriers in 1961 paid $592,062,000 in costs and wages "for unneeded employees."

9 In Family Die As Fire Destroys Rural Residence

RENOVO, Pa. (AP) — A residential fire in the village of Keating early today took the lives of nine of the 12 members of the family of Walter N. Brown, 41.

The fire victims besides Brown were: His wife, Wilma, 37, and these children: Marlene, 15; Leona, 13; Daniel, 10; Susan, 8; Linda, 7; Nancy, 5, and Bradley, 4.

Two of the Browns' 10 children were spending the night with friends.

Another daughter is married and lives at another address.

The Brown house was of two-story frame construction with eight rooms. Keating, which has a population of 35, is in the remote northwestern corner of Clinton County, about 12 miles south, west of Renovo and some 400 miles north of Lock Haven, the county seat.

Election Scheduled Friday

U.S., Russia Agree To Keep Thant In U.N. Post Till '66

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union and the United States were reported agreed today that U Thant of Burma should be kept as U.N. secretary-general until late in 1966.

Diplomatic sources said the Security Council would meet Friday to recommend Thant's election, and the General Assembly would meet later in the day to elect him.

Thant will be elected for a full five-year term, but in accordance with his stipulation the term will date from the day he took office as acting secretary-general. Nov. 3, 1961. Thant reportedly wants to retire in 1966—when he will be 57—for personal reasons.

Thant, formerly Burma's chief U.N. delegate, was elected last November to be acting secretary-general until April 10, 1963, the date of the expiration of the second five-year term of the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld of Sweden. Hammarskjöld had been killed the previous Sept. 17 in a plane crash near Ndola, Northern Rhodesia.

The diplomatic sources said the Burmese diplomat wants to uphold the statutory title of secretary-general and the statutory principle of a five-year term but does not want to serve another five years in the office.

The informants said Soviet-U.S. agreement to Thant's election was reached Wednesday at a meeting of American and Soviet negotiators on the Cuban crisis. They said the Soviets had held up their consent previously in the hope of first getting an agreement to settle that crisis.

The meeting was held at Soviet delegation headquarters. Attending were Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan and First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov; Chief U.N. Delegates Valerian A. Zorin of the Soviet Union and Adlai E. Stevenson of the United States, and Chairman John J. McCloy of President Kennedy's Coordinating Committee on Cuba.

The Soviets earlier had backed off from their original proposal to replace the secretary-general by a three-man troika board. Had they pressed it, they would have had to veto Thant in the Security Council.

Recent Drive Topped Goal By $1,561

Reasbeck Chest Chairman For '63

Postmaster Ray Reasbeck was named chairman of the 1963 United Fund drive Wednesday night at the annual meeting of the Salem Community Fund Association at the Memorial Building.

He will succeed Supt. of Schools Paul E. Smith, who directed this year's campaign to a record sum of $83,561, or $1,561 more than the goal.

Since the candidates for the vice chairmanship, Horace Schwartz and James Schaefer, were unable to be present, this post will be filled early next year by the executive committee, Fund Association Secretary Byron Maxson explained. Schwartz and Schaefer shared the post of vice-president this year.

Vice chairmen of the various committees were automatically elevated to chairmen for 1963, while new vice chairmen were elected last night to take their place.

Named were: C. F. (Rusty) Tomlinson, chairman of public relations, Charter B. Merrill, vice chairman; Mrs. Mike Oana, chairman of the budget committee.

Famed Briton's Memory Failing

Feeble Winnie To Mark 88th Birthday Quietly

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill will celebrate his 88th birthday Friday probably more quietly than any anniversary of his long public life.

As his years upon this earth have lengthened, each birthday anniversary has generated a swelling flood of presents and greetings from well-wishers all over the world.

Thousands come in from people he doesn't know—people who've never seen him but who look on him as the living image of an incomparable fighter.

Over the last 10 years—by special messengers, squads of telegraph boys and postoffice trucks—presents and greetings have poured into his London home.

Friday is expected to bring another avalanche of greetings but Churchill plans a quiet day.

"He will see only his family and very close friends," said his private secretary, Anthony Montague Browne.

Asked if Sir Winston would make his traditional birthday visit to the House of Commons, Browne replied:

"No, I'm afraid not."

Sir Winston is very feeble. He is far from senile, but he walks with considerable effort, is deaf and has good days and bad days.

On a bad day, his mind often isn't clear.

On good days, it's splendidly lucid.

One of his close friends—a former military man—visited him recently and later confided to friends:

"It's all very sad. He could remember almost everything about World War I but very little about World War II, the one he did so much toward winning."

Yet on other recent occasions—when he was enjoying a good day

Pope Treated For Anemia

Ailment Result of Stomach Disorder

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII is suffering from a stomach disorder that the Vatican said today has "provoked a rather intense anemia." Roman Catholics around the world were asked to pray for his recovery.

A Vatican communique said the anemia—a blood deficiency—resulted from an aggravation of symptoms of "gastropathy," for which the 81-year-old pontiff has been for some time under necessary medical and dietary treatment.

Vatican sources said Pope John awoke "full of spirit" this morning but he was kept in bed in his apartment under the close watch of his doctors.

The Pope also has suffered for years from a prostate condition, and there had been reports surgery might be necessary.

One medical authority here said the term "gastropathy" could mean a simple stomach disorder or a serious ailment, such as an ulcer. The authority said the general term "gastropathy" would

Kennedy's Sister Receives Unusual Court Sentence

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)— Patricia Kennedy Lawford, the President's sister and wife of Peter Lawford, is going to have quite a change of pace during the next month.

She'll visit the wrecking yard where autos smashed in traffic accidents are interred. And she'll visit children at the Kennedy Child Guidance Center in St. John's Hospital, to make a survey.

The first activity sounds like a strange choice for a Kennedy and an actor's spouse. It isn't a choice. It's a court sentence, imposed Wednesday when she pleaded guilty driving with an expired operator's license.

The clinic survey also is part of the sentence. She'll write a report on the number of children who are patients being treated for accident injuries.

There's a personal touch to the hospital chore. The center is named for her brother, Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., killed in the war.

Her junkyard report is expected.

Goodson-Todman TV Shows Build 25 Million Operation

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Mark Goodson of the packaging firm of Goodson and Todman, is firmly dedicated to the proposition that most people watch television to be entertained.

It is a premise which the firm has found to be financially rewarding. Goodson-Todman game shows, all seven of them, currently occupy a record 16½ hours each week on two networks and have built what the trade newspaper, "Variety," estimates as a $25,000,000 operation.

At the moment, the shows are "I've Got a Secret," "What's My Line," "To Tell the Truth" and "Password" on CBS and "The Price Is Right," "Play Your Hunch" and "Say When" on NBC. On Dec. 31, still another audience participation show will be unveiled on NBC when "Match Game" has its premiere.

Does the public really have an insatiable appetite for watching other people play games or win prizes?

"Well, people seem to like 'What's My Line?' and 'I've Got a Secret' and 'The Price Is Right' year after year," said Mark Goodson. "And the game and panel shows have proved to be popular with the day-time audiences too."

"Match Game" involves two teams of three persons each (one a celebrity, of course) who match up words for points. Even Goodson, who presided over its creation admits it is almost impossible to explain.

"But you can play it in your own living room," he added. "And it can be a pretty interesting gambling game as well as being as easy or sophisticated as you want to make it."

CBS' "Fair Exchange," as expected, will get the axe just before Christmas. The cancellation means a rejuggling of Thursday and Friday night CBS shows. "The Alfred Hitchcock Hour" moves back a day into the "Fair Exchange" spot, while "The Nurses" will be shoved back to Thursday evenings 10-11 p.m. hour, finally out of competition with NBC's "Dr. Kildare." An hour-long version of "Twilight Zone" will take its place.

Meanwhile, "Fair Exchange" will be given another chance — provided it can find a way to shrink to half-hour size. CBS says it made a firm offer to pick up the show again in a shorter form. Recommended tonight: "Bob Hope Show," NBC, 8:30-9:30 Eastern Standard Time—Jack Benny, Ethel Merman and Bobby Darin are guest-stars.

Must We Go Through It Again?

Remember the "missile gap" that made your blood run cold in 1960 when Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, chief Democratic critic of the Eisenhower administration's defense policies, croaked about it in agonizing tones?

His Cassandra chorus was well as the campaign went along by Texas Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, among others. What they croakers had to say made solid American flesh creep with foreboding.

The Russians had missiles lined up in rows on rows on rows. Their missile were stronger, straighter and more reliable. They were bigger and better. So they said.

IT WAS President Eisenhower's fault, they alleged, that the United States couldn't blast itself out of a wet paper bag. Through a process of fault by association, the fault fell on Richard M. Nixon, who was running against their man John F. Kennedy.

In vain did administration defenders explain how the missile program had been jured up under Eisenhower after dying on the vine under Truman.

Realists wasted their breath—and their ink—calling attention to the undisputed fact the gloomsters knew no more about Russian missiles than a Russian bear knows about the Fourth of July. The whole proposition was guesswork. Missile capacity was a guarded secret.

THE BLASTING and counterblasting grew so vigorous that the good faith of Central Intelligence Agency was questioned when its director, Allan W. Dulles, testified Russia might even have greater than a 3-1 lead.

Sen. Symington thundered that this was a gross underestimate. Sen. Johnson chimed in that the administration was fooling the people.

That's all history now—not pretty history but history.

And meanwhile what happened to the missile gap?

Why what happened is that "military experts" now are saying it's something for the Russians to worry about. It vanished. They are telling their countrymen that the Soviet Union now is on the short end; that U.S. missiles not only are numerous but reliable; that there is nothing to worry about.

THE FACT is that no one knew how many missiles the Russians had in 1960, and no one knows how many they have today.

The fact is such things as missile gaps are fabrications made up by political campaigners and the crowning fact is that current claims of missile superiority are equally groundless.

In an armament race, which is what the United States and the Soviet Union are engaged in no one ever achieves clear superiority. Otherwise, there would be no race.

Considering the Alternative

As Maurice Chevalier is reported to have said about old age, it isn't so awful when you consider the alternative.

Isn't it in order to suggest that some of the transportation mergers which opponents regard sourly aren't so awful when you consider the alternative?

The alternative is financial collapse at worst and nagging poverty at best. No enterprise becomes involved in a merger proposal without reason.

It is proper that public regulation should keep an eye on proposals that threaten to freeze out competition by combining the strength of two against the strength of one. If the two already are in a position to make money and give service, their merger proposal can't ring true.

But if they are not in a position to prosper and survive—if they are trying to put themselves into a more advantageous position to provide service and make a profit—their merger proposals should be given the benefit of every doubt.

Only enterprise subject to public control must ask consent to merge. In other fields of endeavor only evidence of intent to set up a monopoly can stop a merger—and then only by threat of antitrust action.

The question of government attitude has become acute following the turn-down of an American and Eastern airlines merger by a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner. This does not mean the examiner's recommendation cannot be reversed by the full board. It does mean that every potential merger in transportation has gone under a cloud.

Hearing on such proposals can drag on for years after they start. Batteries of legalists and accountants drone through their testimony for months on end while the conditions that prompted the proposed merger may go from bad to worse.

If the alternative to a merger is oblivion, what is there to choose between? The government is all-powerful, but even an all-powerful government cannot force private enterprise to stay in business.

Dropping a Bomb a Day

A young British hopeful trying to advance his chance of winning an election by recommending an H-bomb a day on Chinese targets: will be straightened out by his elders.

As Winston Churchill's grandson and the son of the commonwealth relations secretary, Duncan Sandys, the young man might be expected to know better. This will be pointed out to him by his mental superiors.

But it wouldn't be surprising if he stands firm. With the candor of the young, he has gone to the heart of a grave problem as if unaware of the reasons he should be scared to bring up the subject.

The problem is how to use the deterrent value of nuclear weapons, the only justification for their cost.

As between countries possessing nuclear weapons, the deterrent value lies in mutual fear of retaliation. This crates the paradox of less danger out of ever-increasing danger.

But for a few years after Hiroshima and Nagasaki, there was another kind of deterrent value when the United States alone possessed nuclear capacity. It could inflict terrible punishment on another nation. Optimists believed this would guarantee international peace, ignoring the inevitability of nuclear developments elsewhere.

The young British political hopeful—Julian Sandys—has still another string on his political bow. He thinks the Russians might like it if the Chinese were given an ultimatum to get out of India or undergo a bomb-a-day treatment. It would teach the Chinese a lesson, he thinks.

One lesson it would teach them is the importance of speeding up their project of building their own nuclear blasting capacity. But things being as they are, they are doing that with all their strength now. When they finish the job, they will not quibble. They still start blasting, they promise.

Could it be that young Mr. Sandys, with the candor of the callow, has made one of the profoundest propositions of this waning year?

Ah, Sweet Mystery By Truman Twill

The genius who invented the explosive device called a "Molotov cocktail" in 1939 and prides himself on his continued ability to spot the obvious is about to take a monster bite out of the mystery of life.

He is Dr. Alvar P. Wilksa, formerly of Finland, now in the physics department of the University of Arizona. His mystery remover is a new kind of microscope so powerful it will enable scientists to see the actual atoms in the molecules of life.

The New York Times says the "Molotov Cocktail" was designed to kill Finland's Enemy No. 1—Vyacheslav Molotov. Dr. Wilksa's genius contributed the detonator that would explode a glass bottle of inflammable liquid. Ironically, this weapon saved Molotov and the Stalin crowd from the death that awaited them if Germany won World War II. It became a prime weapon against German tanks in Russia.

The doctor's new microscope (he is a medical doctor who holds a professorship of physiology at the University of Helsinki but is working in physics in the University of Arizona) will bring men closer than they've ever been before to learning the ultimate secrets of life. They will be able to see so clearly the composition of matter that the mystery will be gone.

You wonder how things will be when that happens.

Science keeps hacking away at what little is left of romanticism, which in many situations was only a polite name for ignorance.

All the things men formerly wondered about making up fantasies to fit their romantic predilections, now are boiled down to scientifically provable formulas.

The unknown is becoming the known so rapidly it's impossible to keep pace with new knowledge. And no longer is there anything unknowable. Someone, somewhere is grubbing away night and day to open everything to knowledge.

Even human emotions, as variable as weather, now are susceptible to analysis—like the weather.

No longer does anyone need to wonder. It is possible to know. The thing that began aeons ago when earthlings began to wonder what made the trees bend because they doubted the story about angry gods brushing treetops with their fingertips has come a far piece.

It has taken the mystery out of thunder and lightning, the circulation of blood, the cause of infection and the reason for sour milk.

It has revealed why things grow and what causes them to die.

It has analyzed the secretions of glands and one day soon will disclose the cause of cancer.

Nothing is going to be left to imagination. The mystery is going, going and soon will be gone.

You wonder how things will be.

That will be the only thing left to wonder about because things as they are will be an open book. Formula x-3-K, double O, with variations. Ah sweet mystery of life will be nothing but an idea in a song people used to sing in the era of wonderful ignorance.

Instability Viewed As Biggest Economic Barrier

Everyone who knows anything about the operations of American businesses knows that uncertainty is the biggest barrier of all to careful planning.

Uncertainty is increasing. There is talk of a tax cut. There is talk of tax reform which will add to various expenses and wipe out

On top of this is the talk of a 35-hour week and higher wage demands, which, in turn, has led to talk of raising prices soon after the tax cut occurs and spending is stimulated.

All the talk adds up to more and more uncertainty about the future. For several months now of a tightening of interest rates. There is talk of larger deficits in the Treasury—possibly the largest in peacetime. There is talk of a bigger and bigger outflow of gold from this country and a serious impact on the value of the dollar abroad.

the trend has been characterized by fears of inflation.

What is lacking, of course, is a broad-gauged approach that will bring stability and allow for some long-range planning but politically minded persons in Washington are, for the time being, interested only in what kind of condition will prevail in the economy 20 months from now when the next presidential campaign will be under way.

the trend has been characterized by fears of inflation.

What is lacking, of course, is a broad-gauged approach that will bring stability and allow for some long-range planning but politically minded persons in Washington are, for the time being, interested only in what kind of condition will prevail in the economy 20 months from now when the next presidential campaign will be under way.

SO THE USUAL course in politics is being followed—the same thinking as prevailed in the 1930s, when the emphasis was on the slogan "spend and spend, tax and tax, and elect and elect" but it didn't cure unemployment then. Government spending helped to increase consumer unemployment then, government spending helped to increase consumer spending but it didn't encourage the heavy-goods industries.

Today the administration has gone back to the policies that failed in the 1930s. Stress is again placed on consumer spending. The tax cut is to be "across the board," with the biggest reductions probably in the lower brackets. The expectation is that people in the upper brackets—who will get some reduction in tax rates—will promptly invest their money to enable companies to add new plant and equipment.

But the indubitable fact is that today there is no lack of money to invest. There is instead lack of will to invest. The monopoly power of labor is so strong that it threatens the whole system of profit out of which a reasonable dividend rate can be paid.

CONGRESS, of course, is expected to grant the President's request for a tax cut because this is supposed to be politically popular. But increasing consumer spending will not change the business picture or prevent an increase in unemployment.

In this age of technological improvement, the need is for better equipment but unless a large volume of sales is in sight and the national economy, in all its segments, can improve, the risks of expansion will not be taken and the unemployment situation will not improve.

Today, according to official figures, personal incomes have risen to record heights. Somehow this doesn't help, for instance, to recover jobs for the nearly 100,000 workers in the steel industry who have been thrown out of work ever since the administration began tampering with the price structure.

It looks now as if the tax-cut legislation may be enacted sometime in the spring of 1963, and the full effects probably will not be felt until later in the year. But also during 1963, if a general tax "reform" bill is passed, there are many businesses which will be hurt. Lots of individuals will have reductions taken away from them and many persons who look only at the saving obtained in their own over-all tax rate will discover that they have had an increase in taxable income due to the so-called "reforms."

WHAT CAN be done to bring prosperity? The answer lies in one word—stability. If tax rates, wage rates and interest rates were stabilized, and if political misuse of government funds called "welfare spending" were discontinued and the budget balanced, business would gradually increase its rate of profit, investors would be encouraged, and job creation—the biggest need of the country today—would be given its greatest impetus in decades.

Matter of Fact

The 1961 per capita consumption of major food commodities in this country continued at 3 per cent above the 1947-1949 level. Also continuing was the significant change in the eating habits of Americans. Namely the decline in consumption of potatoes and cereal products, the substitution of vegetable for animal fats and an increase in the eating of poultry as well as the degree to which citrus fruits replaced some other fruits.

Music Hath Charm

Berwick's Problem Typical

By VICTOR RIESEL

BERWICK, Pa. Over in Washington there was a short but sharp battle behind the scenes of the committee which urged President Kennedy to slash $10 billion in taxes next year.

Some of the labor experts want the taxes cut only from the pay of the low and middle income groups. They insist on no cuts for businessmen. They argue this is not the time to cut corporation taxes.

A small group of intellectuals from the universities believes at least $15 billion in taxes should be wiped out next year. The industrialists assert they need a $2 billion slash. The President's "insiders" put a $5 billion figure before him.

This numbers game numbs me. Perhaps it numbs some of those who sit too long in Washington. They don't really know what's doing "out in the field"—and how many are counting on swift action.

THEY SHOULD, as I did, go into the countryside. They should come to small communities such as this one, once a town made prosperous by the world's biggest railroad and subway car plant. Once a town which produced luxury passenger trains fighting tanks, armaments and equipped railroads across the world.

Once a town of thousands of skilled workers, members of a big United Steelworkers local union. But now a town with its major industry gone, its union virtually dissolved, many of its

With peace came layoffs. But as late as 1961 there were 1,500 to 1,900 employees making passenger cars for the Brazil National Railroad; "piggy back" flat cars for rail lines and tank hauled. The latter are for the M-88 recovery vehicle which goes into the battle field to recover broken down and shot up fighting tanks.

But costs were going up while the income of the biggest customers, the railroads, was going down.

No one puts the blame on the United Steelworkers wage scales, or on the cost of transporting the products, or on the many heart-breaking factors which go into a business when you have to meet payrolls and bills.

IN NOVEMBER 1961 the ACF Industries gave Berwick a year's notice. ACF was closing down the plant after 100 years. Early in November 1962 the company left town. There was the giant 2 million - square-foot plant with virtually nothing in it.

The people of Berwick have gotten together. They have organized The Berwick Industrial Development Authority. They seek new businesses. They bought the ACF plant.

A forging company leased part of the vast structure from them and got a $10 million order for tank hulls. Some 350 steel workers were rehired. They are er cities, its people launching an Operation Bootstrap.

The people of Washington should come here. It's easier to understand fiscal values if you rub shoulders with human values.

When I arrived here I found hundreds of citizens gathered in the great hall of the fairly new building of the United Steelworkers Local 1884. Breaking bread together in the hall were leaders of what years ago was a 9,000-member local, leaders of the Chamber of Commerce, bankers, leaders of the professions, the colleges, the clergy, the city government. This was their Unity Banquet. The story behind this unity dinner goes back 100 years.

In the beginning there was the J-W Co., a two-man firm operating a country foundry. It developed gradually. First railroad car wheels were produced.

THEN MINE CARS were turned out. Then railroad cars of all kinds—including the famed strap-hangers under the City of New York. Finally the company became the Berwick division of the American Car and Foundry Company. Later this became a section of ACF Industries, Inc.

During the first World War it was a great ordnance center. In World War II, the plant absorbed 9,000 employees. They made 20,000 of the big tanks; aerial bombs and artillery shells.

With peace came layoffs. But as late as 1961 there were 1,500 to 1,900 employees making passenger cars for the Brazil National Railroad; "piggy back" flat cars for rail lines and tank hauled. skilled men eager to work. They had always been determined to work. There had not been a strike in ACF Industries, Inc., for more than 10 years.

But good will has not been enough. Perhaps not even the kind of unity I encountered in the big, virtually dissolved United Steelworkers Hall, has been enough. It may have come too late.

Actually the problem is a melange of rocketing costs and taxes and an all too uniform wage which rests just as heavily on the small city as on the metropolis. There are hundreds of Berwicks. And not all businesses are as fortunate as ACF Industries, which had other plants to which to retreat and regroup.

But one thing is certain. There is a great lack of unity in this nation. Let's have more of it before crisis, not after.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

SILENT BUT CERTAIN.

Dear Silent but Certain: I'm sure this game appeals to many, but I doubt that it is the All-America sport your letter suggests. Some married people actually behave themselves—honest.

Severest Critic

Dear Ann: I'm a girl 17. Right now my nerves are tied up in knots and I'm sick at my stomach.

I had my senior class pictures taken 10 days ago. It was the biggest moment of my life. I haven't had a picture taken since I was 3 months old.

Today I got my proofs back. I thought they were good. So did my mother. My father says I look like an idiot and he refuses to give me money to have them made up.

I am absolutely heart-broken. If I don't have the pictures made up I won't be in the yearbook. Please help me before I have a complete collapse. —SHOOK UP.

Dear Shook: Almost any photographer will give a customer a second sitting if he asks. Explain that your father didn't like the pictures and you would like to try again. I'm sure he will cooperate.

Wedding 'SNAFU'

Dear Ann: Our daughter is being married in February. Last night she told me she does not want her brother's wife to attend. My daughter pointed out that her sister-in-law never speaks—she screams. We've asked her on countless occasions to please lower her voice but it doesn't help. No matter how large the group, this girl's voice can be heard above all others.

I don't see how we can invite our son to the wedding and ask him not to bring his wife. Our daughter threatens to elope unless we do this her way. Please give us your opinion.—DIS-TRAUGHT.

Dear Distracted: If this were my problem I'd buy the girl a ladder and tell her to be careful on the way down.

You simply cannot exclude your daughter-in-law from the wedding. It would be a cruel insult both to your son and to her.

Has anyone ever thought to suggest that she have her hearing checked? Sometimes people who shriek instead of speak have a hearing problem and are unaware of it.

Deaf May Hear As Result Of New Electronic Ear

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An electronic ear, no larger than today's hard-of-hearing aids but capable of bringing sound to many who are totally deaf, may be available within two years.

The surgically implanted device was described at a meeting Tuesday of the American Medical Association by Dr. John B. Doyle Jr. of Los Angeles, the inventor. Experimental models, weighing two ounces and measuring 1-by-1½-by-½ inches, have been imbedded in the skulls of two patients.

With further research, Dr. Doyle says, the units can be made small enough to be implanted in the ear opening.

"Today's hearings aid merely amplify sound," said Dr. Doyle. "The new unit is designed to help those who cannot hear any sound at all, no matter how greatly amplified, because their mechanism for converting air vibrations into sound has been lost through accident or illness."

In normal ears, this mechanism is the cochlea, a fluid-filled, spiral-shaped organ deep in the head. Sound waves make the ear drum vibrate, activating tiny bones which jiggle the cochlea and set up waves in its fluid. These waves in turn wash over hair-like endings of the auditory nerve leading from the cochlea to the brain.

The new device consists of two tiny induction coils. One is imbedded in the head, with wires running to the cochlea. The other coil, worn externally, generates a magnetic field which acts upon the imbedded coil.

One is a transmitter, the other a receiver.

5 U.S. Divisions Had Been Picked For Cuban Invasion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five of the Army's paratroop, infantry and tank divisions were ticketed for possible invasion of Cuba before the crisis cooled off, it was learned today.

About 100,000 Army men were involved in the preparations, including those manning anti-aircraft missile batteries and support elements moved into Florida.

President Kennedy's inspection of part of the 1st Armored Division at Ft. Stewart, Ga., on Monday disclosed that part of this outfit had been shifted from Ft. Hood, Tex., to the East Coast starting Oct. 22, when the crisis was approaching a climax.

Informal sources said four other Army divisions were designated for the operation, if the decision had been made to invade.

They were identified as the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N.C., the 101st Airborne at Ft. Campbell, Ky., the 1st Infantry Division at Ft. Riley, Kan., and the 2nd Infantry Division at Ft. Benning, Ga.

These five divisions account for more than half of the eight-division force the Army maintains in the United States as a strategic reserve. The other eight Army divisions are in Germany, Korea, and Hawaii.

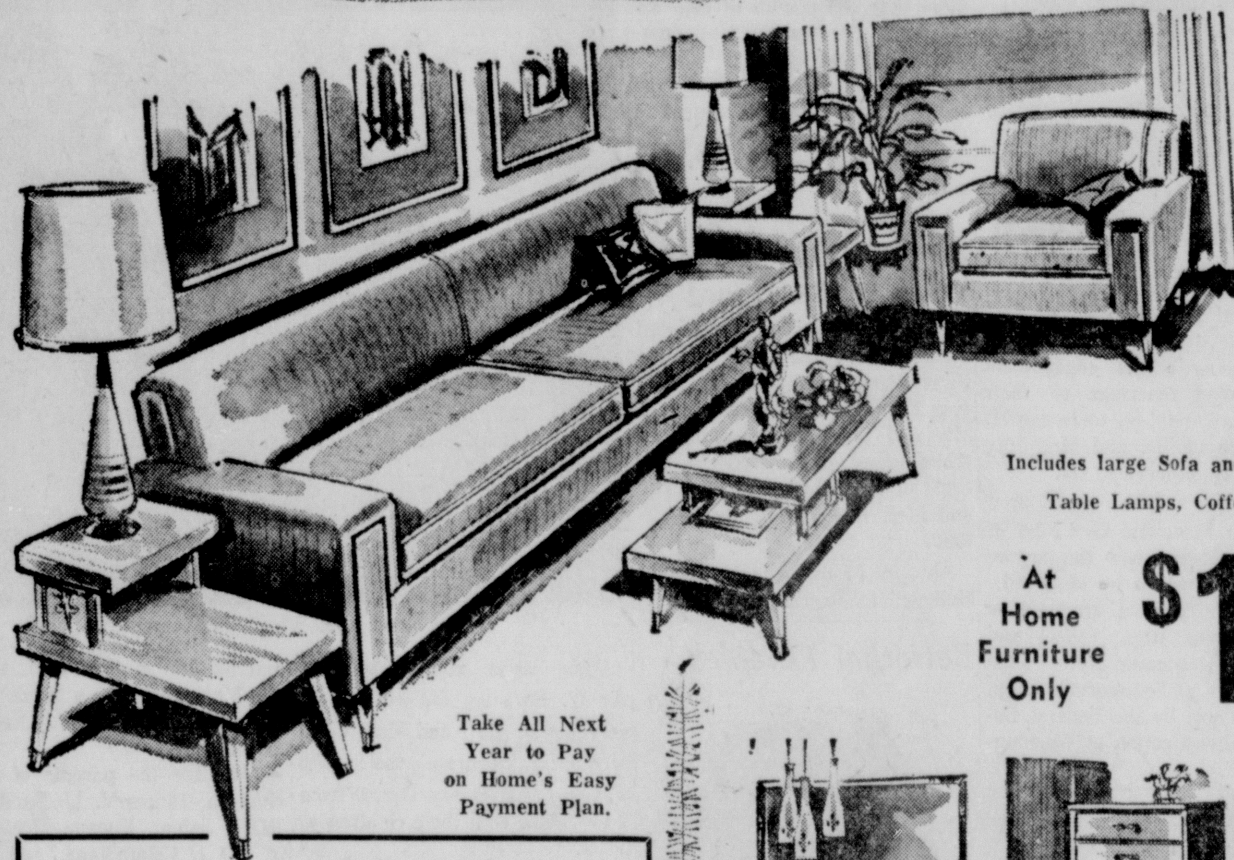

Only the 1st Armored was moved. Its more than 15,500 men were flown east from Texas in military and civilian planes, while its tanks and other heavy gear were carried by rail.

The only dissension among Council on the 48-year-old marshal's 15-day suspension stemmed from disagreement on continuing or withholding the officer's pay for a fortnight.

All members but Herman Ziegler favored giving Sheen his salary, a nominal sum of $4.12, based on a $100 annual salary. Sheen also is paid $75-a-month car rental, but since he would not be using his car during suspension, he did not receive the $37.50 for the two weeks.

In the interim Roy Painter, deputy marshal who also serves as Hanover Township constable, has been assuming the law enforcement duties.

Western Reserve Board Undecided On School Site

BERLIN CENTER — Western Reserve School District Board of Education met in special session Wednesday night at Berlin further discuss the choice of one of five proposed sites.

No definite action was taken, but Board President Francis Miller said the board hopes to decide soon on the location of the new building.

Plans for the school were discussed with Youngstown architects Smith, Buchanan and Smith, who are in the process of drawing up the design.

Five possible locations are being eyed, including four tracts at the intersection of Route 224 and Duck Creek Rd. and a farm just west of there.

Clerk Zimmerman presented certified results from the Mahoning County Board of Election of the $590,000 bond issue and 3.3 mill levy which voters passed Nov. 6.

Final figures show 715 people voted on the bond issue, with 564 "for" and 155 "against." The levy vote was 548 "for" and 174 "against."

The board will meet again in regular session Dec. 19 at Ellsworth School.

occupying redundant positions, pay for time not worked, compensation that was not commensurate with the value of services rendered, and the cost of owning and maintaining equipment and facilities" for superfluous jobs.

Public Interest Involved
The court observed that the public interest was involved. The judges also criticized the unions for threatening a walkout which could lead to a "national transportation paralysis."

Under the rules changes the jobs of 40,000 firemen who work on diesel locomotives and 25,000 train and yard workers would be lopped off.

The five brotherhoods represent 210,000 on train employees on 195 railroads.

Chairman Smith presented the final report of the successful year and lauded the corps of some 300 workers, newspaper and radio stations which aided in the drive. He was presented an award of merit by J. Raymond Stiver in behalf of the Chamber of Commerce for leadership and community service.

Association President E. Ralph Martin conducted the business session.

County Cancer Unit Has Meeting In Lisbon

The new board of directors of the Columbiana County Cancer Society attended the society's meeting Wednesday evening at the Courthouse in Lisbon, according to Mrs. Jayne Calhoun, executive director.

Members are Miss Selma Ladzinske and Mrs. Ethelyn Exly of East Liverpool, Charles Faust and Atty. James Prim of Lisbon, Miss Thelma Humphrey of Kensington, C. Richard Roose of Leetonia, Carl L. Stacey of Columbiana, and Miss Marjorie Brittain of East Palestine.

Awards were given to all campaign directors.

Samuel Brown, East Liverpool postmaster, will head the cancer drive for 1963.

Dr. William Kolozsi of Salem, service chairman, and Dr. John A. Fraser of East Liverpool, medical adviser, were present.

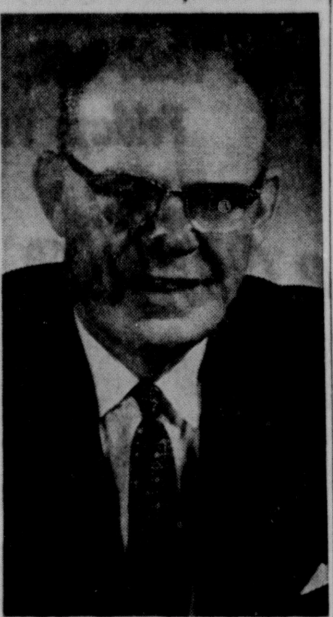

Mrs. Adrey Newitz of East Liverpool, president, presided. The next meeting will be Jan. 30.

TO BUILD "COMMUNITY"

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Hammond Corp. wants to build virtually an entire community, to cost about $25 million, on the northern border of Hamilton county. It is to have dwelling units, including 130 apartments, schools, churches, parks and a shopping center.

Geyser is an Icelandic word meaning "to spout."

Heads Pottery Sales

James A. Armstrong

James A. Armstrong, sales manager of the Salem China Co., has been appointed to the new position of director of sales.

Armstrong, in his expanded role, will head three separate sales divisions — the supermarket, specialty sales and retail sales groups.

The Salem man, who has been associated with the chinaware firm's sales department since 1926, resides on the Damascus Road.

Two Injured In Rt. 170 Mishaps

Two young East Liverpool women were injured, one hospitalized, after their car went out of control on a curve and rolled over Wednesday night at 9 on Route 170, about nine miles north of Route 30 near Fredericktown, according to the state highway patrol at Lisbon.

Barbara Simcox, 24, of RD 2, East Liverpool, a passenger in the car, is listed in fair condition at East Liverpool Hospital with contusions of the left shoulder and multiple contusions of the body. The driver of the overturned auto, Carla Jean Lovett, 19, of N. Shadyline Dr., was treated for a bruised back and forehead and released.

Miss Lovett, whose auto failed to negotiate a curve and went off the right side of the highway, was not cited pending the patrol's investigation.

Two other East Liverpool motorists involved in another Route 170 accident just north of Calcutta Wednesday at 2 p. m. were unhurt. The patrol said Katherine L. Moore, 45, of RD 2, was making a left turn when her car was struck by another driven by Robert J. Webb, 21, of 1623 Ohio Ave., who was passing.

Hays Says Lodge 'Whim' Cost U.S. Quarter of Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, says former Ambassador John Davis Lodge cost the United States a quarter of a million dollars by refusing to move into a new embassy residence in Madrid because of its modern architecture.

Lodge, a Republican who served in Spain from 1955 to 1961, fired back that Hays' assertions were inaccurate and politically motivated.

Hays, chairman of a House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee on buildings, has just returned from Europe where he visited the Spanish embassy. He opened the bitter exchange Wednesday by saying Lodge refused to move into the new residence in 1955 on grounds "it was too modern."

Lodge wanted to live in a Spanish-style residence, Hays said, and so the new building was taken over by the U. S. Information Agency while the ambassador continued to rent living quarters for $15,000 a year.

Now, Hays said, it has been decided to use the modern-style residence, but it will have to be remodeled at a cost of $100,000.

Hays said he did not know how much the building cost originally. But, he commented, "Mr. Lodge's whim cost us a quarter of a million dollars."

prolonged negotiations and, if unable to obtain it, we will strike again."

Lockheed Vice President John Canaday said the company would "welcome use of Taft-Hartley."

If a Taft-Hartley injunction is issued, Lockheed's latest contract offer could be submitted to a compulsory vote of workers in the bargaining unit represented by the machinists. Both union and non-union workers would vote.

Lockheed called for such a vote last Saturday, when it submitted an offer providing for wage increases of about 25 cents hourly, spread over three years. Average pay under the old contract was $2.95 an hour.

In California, the strike affects Lockheed-California Co. plants at Burbank and Palmdale, and Lockheed Missile & Space Co. facilities at Sunnyvale, Van Nuys and the Missile Test Center at Vandenberg Air Force Base.

Also affected are the Cape Canaveral Missile Test Center in Florida and Lockheed Tracking Station at Honolulu. At Cape Canaveral, only the Polaris missile project, among dozens of missile-space programs, appeared to be seriously affected by the walkout.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Once in a while, we have a box of brown sugar or a bag of granulated sugar that is as hard as a rock. I have tried using a hammer to break this but with no results. I ended up by throwing the sugar out. Recently, I discovered that it can be utilized to its fullest...

I now put the "brick" of sugar in a pan and pour boiling water over it. This will melt the sugar. Let it sit a few hours, turning the block of sugar over from time to time as it dissolves. This gives nothing but liquid sugar but this can be boiled on your stove to make the most delicious homemade syrup for those waffles and pancakes in the morning that you have ever tasted.

I vary this by putting it in separate bottles and adding different imitation flavors to the various bottles:

In one bottle, I add a few drops of maple flavoring; in another bottle, I add a few drops of plain vanilla in the next bottle I add black walnut flavoring. The flavor my family likes the most is imitation cherry. This is usually put in cakes and cake icing, and one day I just happened to pick up the bottle and pour some in. It is out on your cloud nine—as you say.

Any of these flavors may be added to either brown or white sugar. I just boil the sugar and water until it gets sort of thick. You can tell this because you will have slow bubbles breaking on top of the mixture while it is cooking. After utilizing a bag of what I thought was lost sugar, I now buy sugar and make all of my own syrup.

BETTE CADDY.

DEAR HELOISE: I have recently moved into a new home and neighborhood and already disagree with my woman neighbors.

When it rains, I rush outside and take my wash off of the lines. My neighbors leave their clothes to hang out in the rain, stating that rain will not hurt their wash, an in fact is good for it.

I always thought rain was a filter for all the dirt and dust in the air. I say rain is dirty and harmful to a good clean wash, and they say no. Please settle this argument one way or the other.

MRS. RUTH SAMMONS.

DEAR FOLKS: We would appreciate your opinions on the above letter. Letters do not have to be signed to appear. Address your letters to Heloise in care of The Salem News.

DEAR HELOISE: I am a bow saver. Whenever we open a gift, the lovely bow is saved and put in our large "bow box." The carton is large so that none of the pretty bows get mashed. We also put all of our corsages — You have no idea what lovely sans the flowers — in the box. frosting a corsage bow is on top of gift wrapping.

Sometimes we add an artificial flower and make it into a real corsage.

You would be surprised how many pretty bows a person receives in a year. Someone has worked hard to make our packages lovely and it seems heartless to unwrap it and throw that lovely ribbon in the trash.

PHYL CARTER.

DEAR HELOISE: Sal soda is wonderful for cleaning plastic dishes when used like cleanser.

Nc Undue Optimism Felt Over JFK-Mikoyan Talks

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—It will be a kind of "aw-fellows-let's-start-all-over-again" meeting when President Kennedy confers at the White House today with Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.

The last time Kennedy met with one of Premier Khrushchev's righthand men, Foreign Secretary Andrei Gromyko, the Russian lied to him. He said Soviet weapons in Cuba were defensive when Kennedy already knew they were offensive missiles.

If nations acted like people, one lie would be enough for a lifetime and the United States would sever all relations with the Soviet Union. But nations don't since they're all realistic enough to know none of them is perfect.

The biggest embarrassment a nation can suffer is to be caught in a lie, as Russia was on the missiles and the United States was when it first lied by saying the downed U2 plane in 1960 was not a spyplane.

Besides, a lot happened since Gromyko saw Kennedy last Oct. 18.

Kennedy called Khrushchev's hand on the missiles. The Russian backed up sheepishly like a man caught with both hands in the cookie jar and carted his missiles away. He didn't apologize and nobody called anybody names.

This must have been, despite the tremendous sense of crisis, one of the quietest showdowns and backdowns in history.

And just because it worked out that way the door was left open for both sides to go on almost as if nothing had happened and in the end—although this seems barely possible—might make for better relations.

"Almost" is a very important word in the relationship because those who never quite trusted Khrushchev will have even a harder time doing so now since his game with the missiles could not have been more deadly.

He was the one who preached peaceful coexistence which, in view of what happened, now sounds like a kind of sleepy-time song intended to lull the children to sleep while the old witch came and blew their house down.

It was a bewitching trick he tried: installing missiles in next-door Cuba to be used anytime thereafter to blackmail, and even try to demolish if that became necessary, the United States.

The two powers have a batch of unsolved problems, and Kennedy and Mikoyan can talk about some of them. But no one is daring enough, or maybe giddy enough, to predict they'll solve any of them.

To the surprise of both sides, no doubt, they now find they have a mutual problem where before only the United States had it. This is Fidel Castro, who is probably as much miffed at Russia for backing down as he is at this country.

He must have been an intense problem for the Russians. Otherwise, Mikoyan would hardly have found it necessary to spend 24 days with him, especially since Mikoyan's wife died in Russia shortly after he got to Cuba.

It has been suggested that if Khrushchev really suffered a change of heart after Cuba his first opportunity to show it would be at the disarmament talks that opened this week.

But after the first session Monday at Geneva Arthur S. Dean, head of the U.S. delegation, reported no change at all.

25th Anniversary Held By Leetonia '37 Class

LEETONIA — Yellow roses and candles decorated the tables when the Leetonia High School Class of 1937 gathered Saturday evening in Heck's Restaurant in celebration of their 25th anniversary.

Evelyn Kibler Smith gave the invocation and Robert Sullivan, president, presided and presented awards to Catherine Orincak Wilson of Wellington for traveling the farthest to attend, Lawrence Wilms of Leetonia, for the largest family, and Mary Eastek Holman of East Palestine, for having the youngest child. Small books containing the names and addresses of members were given to each of the 37 there.

Special guests at the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. William Disbro, Cuyahoga Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stejskal of Austintown, class sponsors.

The next reunion will be in 1967.

MORE THAN 35 MEMBERS and guests were present when the Leetonia Woman's Society of Christian Service entertained the WSCS of Elkhart Methodist Church Tuesday at the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Allen Ebersole showed slides of her trip to Newfoundland last summer. Vicki Vestal presented a piano solo and Miss Cinda Davis, Miss Karen Fowler and Ronald Oakes sang two selections.

The resignation of Mrs. Robert Kornbau as vice president was read and Mrs. Dean Forney was elected to serve the unexpired term.

It was decided that since the regular meeting in December falls on Christmas the society will meet Dec. 28.

The committee served refreshments.

ST. PATRICK'S MOTHERS Club will hold a bake sale Sunday after the 8 a.m., 10 a.m. and 11:45 a.m. Masses in the school hall.

Rev. and Mrs. Robert H. Secrist of Dayton and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sittler of RD, Salem, were recent guests of Rev. and Mrs. T. P. Laughner.

An offering of $74 for the American Bible Society was received at the Thanksgiving-eve service at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

CATECHETICAL CLASSES of the Lutheran Church will resume meeting with Rev. T. P. Laughner Saturday. First year will meet at 9 a.m. followed by Luther

'Study Assignment' Waiting For Teachers At Convention

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A study assignment was waiting for the slightly more than 1,000 teachers and school administrators who reported as delegates today to the Ohio Education Association's annual convention.

They are being asked to analyze results of an OEA-sponsored $39,500 independent statewide study of Ohio's public school needs.

Committees and the staff of the OEA think 45 of the study's 137 recommendations should be given top priority during the coming session of the legislature. If the convention proceeds on schedule, delegates will vote on this tonight.

The study, first of its type since the 1930s, was authorized at last year's convention and carried out by Ohio School Survey Service, Inc., headed by Drs. W. R. and Marie A. Fleisher. It required almost 10 months and nearly 120,000 contacts with school people and related groups and individuals around the state.

Among the recommendations which OEA convention delegates are being asked to give first priority are:

A special appropriation from the 1963 legislature to enable the State Board of Education to study school district organization and offer a plan in 1965 for wide reorganization of county, city, exempted village and local school districts.

An immediate appropriation of $30 million during the next session for school construction grants-in-aid, plus $5 million for building rehabilitation, to offset "an astronomical rise in school district bonded indebtedness during the last decade."

No increase in the local share of the state school foundation program, which is 12.5 mills—$12.50 per $1,000—on the assessed value of property in the school district. If a district is wealthy enough to meet its entire budget this way, it gets only a minimum state. Otherwise, it gets the difference.

A concentrated effort to assure that every Ohio high school enrolls at least 500 students, that classes have a maximum of 27 students, and that no high school failing to meet minimum standards be allowed to get or keep a state charter.

Although the School Survey Service study made no recommendation, the OEA's Financial Support Committee incorporated a 46th top priority recommendation calling for money from the legislature for help to school districts with a number of "culturally deprived" youngsters from slum areas.

St. Jacob's Class Elects Ferguson

Homer Ferguson of Lisbon was elected president of St. Jacob's Church Home Builders Class Wednesday evening at a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Sittler, Leetonia RD. He succeeds Sittler.

Other officers elected are Mrs. Thomas Rudebeck, secretary; Thomas Olin Baker, treasurer, and Mrs. John Schnader, corresponding secretary.

A Christmas party will be held with the Lamp Lighters Class on Dec. 19 at the church with the latter class as host. The Home Builders Class will present a program at the Christian Church in Salem in February. Five dollars was donated to the county welfare Christmas fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson were in charge of devotions, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Forney had charge of the games. The Sittlers served lunch at the conclusion of the meeting.

Singspiration Planned By Columbiana Class

COLUMBIANA — The annual "Singspiration" which traditionally marks the beginning of the Christmas season in Columbiana is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the Grace United Church sanctuary. The service is sponsored by the Golden Link Class of the church.

This year's program will feature the Salem Saxon Chorus under the direction of Karl Meinhardt. Others who will perform are Mr. and Mrs. John Golden, Mrs. Harold Theidt, Miss DeErla Smith, Mrs. Thomas Richardson and Mr. Lowell Ziegler.

Mrs. Karl Bott will furnish organ accompaniment. The free-will offering received will be used to purchase gifts for residents of the Columbiana County Home at Lisbon.

COLUMBIANA FIREMEN answered a call to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crawford of 361 North Elm St. Wednesday.

A fire caused by a faulty incinerator completely gutted the inside of the garage attached to the residence.

The exterior of the garage was not damaged. No estimate has been made of the amount of damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Theiss and children of Southern Ave. are vacationing in Fort Myers, Fla., and visiting Mrs. Theiss' parents there.

Mrs. Marian Glenn visited recently with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Cummings, in Mercer, Pa.

MR. AND MRS. MELVIN Forbes visited recently with their sons, Drs. Melvin and Robert Forbes in Painesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Whitehead of Anchorage, Alaska, are the parents of a son born Nov. 16. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whitehead of Columbiana are the paternal grandparents.

Mrs. Raymond Hayes and daughter Jean and Mrs. Wilfred Scott called on Mrs. Cora Failor of Poland recently.

A son was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ripple of Youngstown in the North Side Hospital. Mrs. Randall Glenn is the maternal grandmother.

Mrs. Raymond Hayes and daughter Jean of Portsmouth, Va., were recent guests at the Wilfred Scott home.

Lisbon Chest Drive $1,809 Short of Goal

LISBON — Chairman Cornell P. Monda reported Wednesday that Lisbon and Center Township's community fund campaign is still short $1,809.

A committee was appointed to contact residents who were not home or who may have been missed in an effort to reach the goal of $7,999.

Monda said the committee will meet again Dec. 11, to check on the drive.

APPROVED BY BOARD

LISBON — Homer G. Dotson, Leetonia RD 2, was the only co-operator approved by the board of supervisors of the Columbiana County Soil Conservation District at its meeting Tuesday. He has 50 acres in Fairfield Township.

The board also completed final plans for its annual meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Crestview High School, southeast of Columbiana. Frank Maus of Weirton, W. Va., will be the guest speaker.

A sensation in sound! The new Astro-Sonic no-tube stereo high-fidelity by

MAGNAVOX

Magnavox has virtually created a stereo miracle! No tubes! No heat! But sound as acoustically perfect, as breathlessly true as an "in person" performance. The Astro-Sonic can simulate a whole symphony or sigh sotto voice in sweet whisperings. Solid state circuitry provides greater FM stereo, FM and AM performance. Exponential 1000-cycle treble horns eliminate harsh sounds and more efficient woofers reproduce fundamental bass tones with greater definition. And Magnavox adds 10-year warranty on diamond-sapphire stylus and a 5-year service, parts warranty.

Old Stage Props In Way At Salem Junior High School

Whoever "made the scene" at Salem Junior High School is being paged by school officials.

About 15 pieces of stage scenery, relics of the era 10 or 15 years ago when the play was the thing here, have been gathering dust behind the locked door of a tiny, second floor room.

They were left there by members of city dramatic organizations which frequently produced plays on the school stage.

Now, the acting groups are either defunct or less active but the tangible reminders of their efforts remain.

The assortment, which includes painted 'scapes, garden arches, wooden doorways and fences, will be returned to the dramatic organizations or former members if they will contact the superintendent's office immediately, according to D. M. Fadely, assistant superintendent. Otherwise, the props will be destroyed to make space for individual and small group musical instrument practice by students of Richard Howenstein, Salem High School band director.

Bank's 'Mouse Trap' Ad Creates Problem

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—To plug its new industrial loans department, the Arizona Bank recently ran a newspaper ad displaying a baited mousetrap.

The copy read: "For rent—money for better mousetraps. Whether you are building a better mousetrap or components for the space age be sure to consult our industrial experts."

Industrial borrowers nibbled. So did a host of mousetrap inventors.

One proudly showed a trap he said would catch six mice at a time. Another said his would grab 27, one at a time or all at once.

Still another contrived a trap of transistors and electronic relays.

Vice President T. C. (Bud) Bashem said, "If we ever run another mousetrap ad, I quit."

ELECTRIC POWER FAILED
SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A cable failure at Ohio Edison Co.'s Mad River plant at 4:30 p.m. left much of Springfield without electricity for periods ranging from 40 minutes to 2 1/2 hours Tuesday night.

Hospitals, homes for the aged and the Clark County jail were among places affected, but no serious difficulties developed.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Health Questions And Answers

I get so many interesting questions I can't possibly answer them all, as much as I would like to. A hint: The shorter the letter, the more likely it is to be answered soon. Please put questions on only one subject in your letter. If several people write asking for information on the same subject I will try to cover the subject in a full-length column.

Dr. Brandstadt

Q—In view of a recent outbreak of encephalitis in Florida, I was wondering what measures can be taken to keep from getting it.

A—Although there is a vaccine against the type of encephalitis or brain fever recently seen in Florida, it is not recommended for general use but only for use in persons with a greater than average risk of exposure. This is because of the danger of rather severe reactions. For this reason control of infection is a matter for the local health department wherever an outbreak occurs. The only thing you as an individual can do is to avoid exposure to mosquitoes during the hours they are known to bite each day, if there is an outbreak in your town. You could also sleep under a mosquito net.

Q—Is there a drug that can be taken safely to lessen the craving for alcohol?

A—The drug, disulfiram or Antabuse, can be taken in small amounts daily. Of itself it has no harmful effects on the body even when taken over a long period. If a person who has taken this drug regularly for three weeks drinks even a small amount of alcohol he will have a severely unpleasant reaction which is characterized by flushing, rapid heart action with palpitation, shortness of breath, gasping, nausea, vomiting, and even loss of consciousness, depending on the amount of alcohol taken.

Because of the severity of the reaction, an alcoholic should never be given the drug without his knowledge and consent. Once he has started taking it he should take one small trial drink so that he will know what to expect. This should be done only under the supervision of a physician.

This drug is not a cure for alcoholism but in a person who recognizes that he is a problem drinker and who sincerely wants to overcome the habit, it may help to tide him over a difficult period of readjustment. Great harm can be done by slipping the drug into the food of an alcoholic without his knowledge and any person who is taking it must be warned not to take any cough syrup or other medication that contains alcohol.

Persons with diabetes, goiter, epilepsy, insanity, cirrhosis of the liver, or kidney disease are not fit subjects for treatment with this powerful drug.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Gourmet fare: chopped smoked oysters (they come canned) added to an omelet.

Farm Bureau Maps Membership Drive

Jay Thompson, assistant director of field service of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, will be the guest speaker at the membership drive meeting Monday at 8:30 p.m. at St. George's parish hall in Lisbon.

A training meeting for captains and workers in western half of the county was held last evening at the New Garden Methodist Church, with Galen Greenisen of Salem, chairman of the growth committee of County Farm Bureau, and Mrs. Evelyn Hoopes of Beloit RD 2, organizational director, in charge.

A similar training meeting for eastern half of county will be held Friday at Elkton school beginning at 8.

Columbus Meeting Set

"Better Identification of Ohio Soils" is the theme of this year's Joint Soil Scientist Conference scheduled for the Southern Hotel, Columbus, Dec. 4, 5 and 6.

This is the word from Ken Dotson, chief, Division of Lands and Soil, Ohio Department of Natural Resources, who pointed out that this annual affair is attended by soils experts from the Ohio State University, the Soil Conservation Service and other agricultural agencies as well as from the division he heads.

Roadside Markets Session

Owners of seven new roadside markets in Ohio are scheduled to appear on the program of the annual Roadside Marketing Conference Friday, at the Ohio State University.

As members of a panel they will discuss how their markets were planned, constructed, and arranged, and relate how these structures are helping them boost sales. Scheduled panelists are Kenneth Cockran of Cuyahoga Falls, William Eysen, Brunswick; Edward Moeller, Cincinnati; William Miller, Cleveland; Richard Moore, Oak Harbor; Milton Nichols, Madison; and Howard Schuster, Elyria.

Soils Group to Meet

The 11th annual meeting of the Mahoning Soil and Water Conservation District will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Ellsworth School.

The family style dinner will be prepared by the Western Reserve Parent-Teachers Organization.

The principal speaker will be Samuel S. Studebaker of Tipp City, vice president of the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts. Mr. Studebaker was born and reared on the farm he now owns and operates as a general crop and dairy farm. He is president of the Miami Valley Milk Producers Association and Chairman of the Board of Directors of the four state district Farm Credit Banks of Louisville, Ky.

Paul Gipp of Salem will be master of ceremonies.

Three District Supervisors will be elected to fill the expiring terms of Dean Beardsley, Lloyd Burkhardt and Roger Martig. Those nominated are Dean Beardsley of Canfield; Lloyd Burkhardt of North Jackson; John Hammond Jr. of North Benton; Roger Hartig of Beloit; Eugene Oesch of Berlin Center; and Earl Ruggles of North Jackson.

Lower Hog Prices Seen

Farmers may receive slightly lower prices for their hogs next year if producers carry out their intentions to market more hogs the rest of this year and next.

Clarence C. Bowen, Ohio State University extension marketing economist, makes this forecast, based on recent USDA reports. These reports indicate a 4 per cent increase in hogs marketed during most of next year and a 4 per cent increase in the number of sows farrowing through February.

It also is reasonable to expect increases in farrowings for the remainder of the spring farrowing season next year, Bowen says. Feed prices likely will remain near their present levels, and the hog-corn ratio (the number of bushels of corn that can be purchased with 100 pounds of market hog) probably will continue favorable.

Bowen expects a net increase in pork production of from 2 to 2½ per cent next year. "Applying the 'rule of thumb' that a 1 per cent increase in marketing will decrease prices 2½ per cent, we should expect a 4 to 6 per cent decrease in live hog prices in 1963, compared with the same period in 1962," Bowen says. "On a dollar and cents basis, this means hogs could be 50 cents to $1 a hundred lower in 1963 than they were this year."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says food chains accounted for 45 to 60 per cent of retail sales of eggs in five eastern market areas.

A study covered retail sales and the movement into retail channels of shell eggs in Baltimore, Pittsburgh, New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

Independent grocers, the second most important retail outlet for shell eggs, commanded 15 per cent of the market in Boston to 32 per cent in Pittsburgh.

Wholesale distributors sold to such institutional outlets as hotels, restaurants and hospitals as well as through their own retail route and stores.

Food chains had the greatest share of retail sales of eggs in Boston with 60 per cent of the market, and the smallest share in Philadelphia, with 45 per cent of the market.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department proposed today to add 49 counties in Southern Michigan to the list of U.S. areas conducting intensive state-federal campaigns to eradicate sheep scabies.

The 15 counties of Michigan's Upper Peninsula and the 19 uppermost counties of Michigan's Lower Peninsula already have been freed of this costly sheep disease.

Similar sheep-scabies eradication programs currently are being conducted in Illinois, Kentucky, Nebraska, New Mexico, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and Hawaii.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department takes the view that reapportionment of state legislative bodies may add rather than detract from rural services that are being provided.

When cities get more power in state legislatures, many people assume that rural areas will automatically suffer.

But, a department specialist says, reapportionment of legislative bodies might actually result in rural communities having more services as well as increased expenditure.

How to travel in luxury without really flying

The new '63 Chevrolet has captured the silence and effortless ease of jet flight and translated it to highway travel. Every new Chevrolet, whether it's a luxury Impala, a low-priced Bel Air or a Biscayne, now has self-adjusting brakes, a Delcotron generator to extend battery life, and the ingenious new flush-and-dry system that takes air and rain water from the cowl and rinses corrosive elements out of the rocker panels where rust usually begins. A test drive will amaze you. The suspension, with coil springs at all four wheels, treats back roads, car tracks, gravel as though they were billiard-table smooth. The engine whisks you away from traffic lights or steps safely out to pass slower cars without once intruding on your privacy. When you're driving a Chevrolet, you don't take a back seat to anyone!

Lisbon Social

By ETTA MAE ALEXANDER

The Lisbon Lionettes met at the Lion's Cottage, Willow Grove Park, Tuesday evening for election of officers.

Mrs. George Zeigler of Hanoverton was re-elected president for the coming year. Elected to serve with her are, Mrs. Neal Barnes, vice president; Mrs. Harold Detwiler, secretary; Mrs. William Schroyer, treasurer; Mrs. Francis Galbreath, publicity.

Mrs. Zeigler was also elected master of ceremonies and entertainment chairman, assisted by Mrs. Russell Reynolds and Mrs. Mike Beiling.

The group will entertain the residents of the County Home Dec. 23 with a Christmas theme program.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas party Dec. 12, and a special treat for the guest stars of the shows presented by the Lionettes at the veterans hospital and other organizations, will be given Dec. 21.

MRS. PAUL CROSSER, president of the Eagles Auxiliary, presided at the meeting Tuesday evening at the Eagles Home.

A request of a donation to the Lisbon Band Parents Association was approved.

The Max Baer Heart Fund letter of appreciation for the auxiliary's help was read by Mrs. Louis Hedl, secretary.

A report of the membership contest, between Ohio and Pennsylvania was received from Mrs. Francis Vanis, state bulletin editor. She said Ohio has increased its membership 807, while Pennsylvania has only 378 new members to date.

The Christmas party will be a coverdish dinner Tuesday at 6:30, with the meat, coffee, rolls, butter and cream furnished. There will be a $1 gift exchange. Members who were not present at the meeting last evening are asked to contact Mrs. Crosser or Mrs. John Rupp if they plan to attend the dinner.

The next meeting will be Dec. 11.

St. Jacob's United Church of Christ will observe Advent Day, Sunday with the theme, "Coming to Christ."

The afternoon service will begin at 3, followed by a buffet supper, which will be furnished by the committee. Miss Geneva Zimmerman is general chairman.

A worship service in the evening will close the program.

JOHN BOWERS OF Beloit spent the Thanksgiving weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Frankford of S. Lincoln Ave. His sister, Linda, visited their maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Crawford of Rogers.

Sunday, Arch Bowers, their father, visited with both the Frankfords and Crawfords and accompanied his children home.

Mrs. C. Jack Rutter of E. Chestnut St., Lisbon Junior High School English teacher, and Mrs. G. B. Bauman of Columbiana, who teaches in the Leetonia schools, left Wednesday to attend the Ohio Education Association representative assembly in Columbus.

State highway patrolman W. R. Jones of E. Washington St. has returned home from Columbus where he attended "in-service training classes" at the Patrol Academy Monday and Tuesday.

Every patrolman in the state must take a two-day refresher course, once each year.

NEW YORK AP)—Sidewalk observations by a Pavement Platoon.

The two most widespread ailments among mankind are tooth decay and the common cold.

But the most prevalent disease among American middle-aged men today is a comparatively new one known as "pensionitis."

Tooth decay can be treated and the patient with a common cold can at least be made comfortable while his malady runs its course.

But so far there doesn't seem much that can be done for a person in the throes of pensionitis.

Pensionitis is characterized by an acute delusion that life is better without work. The victim babbles endlessly about how much greener the pastures will be when he is 65, gives up his job, and no one will tell him what he has to do. Usually he also makes wild and impossible plans about how he is going to enjoy his final freedom.

'Pensionitis'

By HAL BOYLE

The disease is mildly noticeable in men of 35, deepens in intensity in those over 40, and in men past 50 of 55 often becomes a kind of frenzy.

However, in recent years pensionitis has spread rapidly among younger segments of the population. Personnel directors report more and more young college graduates are as interested in the company's pension program as in its opportunities for executive advancement.

Except among the rock 'n' roll set—no one really can understand what they talk about, or care—pensions are by far the most popular conversational topic anywhere in the land. Yes, far more popular than old standbys like baseball, politics, the weather—and whether the man next door beats his wife.

If you doubt this, the next time you go to a cocktail party step to the center of the room and announce in a loud, clear voice: "My company has just put in a whopping new pension program and, boy, is it a good one!"

You will find this is a far better way to become the life of the party than had you merely stood on your head or sat down to the piano and rippled through a Mozart concerto. Everyone will flock up to hear your good news.

The present preoccupation with pensions is a rather sad reflection of something basically wrong with our times.

Man has always yearned for security in an insecure world, and for too long he feared old age because for many it meant making the lonely journey over the hill to the poorhouse, or being dependent on the charity of his children. Social Security and the spread of pension programs throughout our economic system are doing much to wipe out that fear and to give the elderly financial independence.

But the trouble with pensionitis is that it makes a pension not an end reward but the actual goal of life.

HELD IN CAR DEATHS

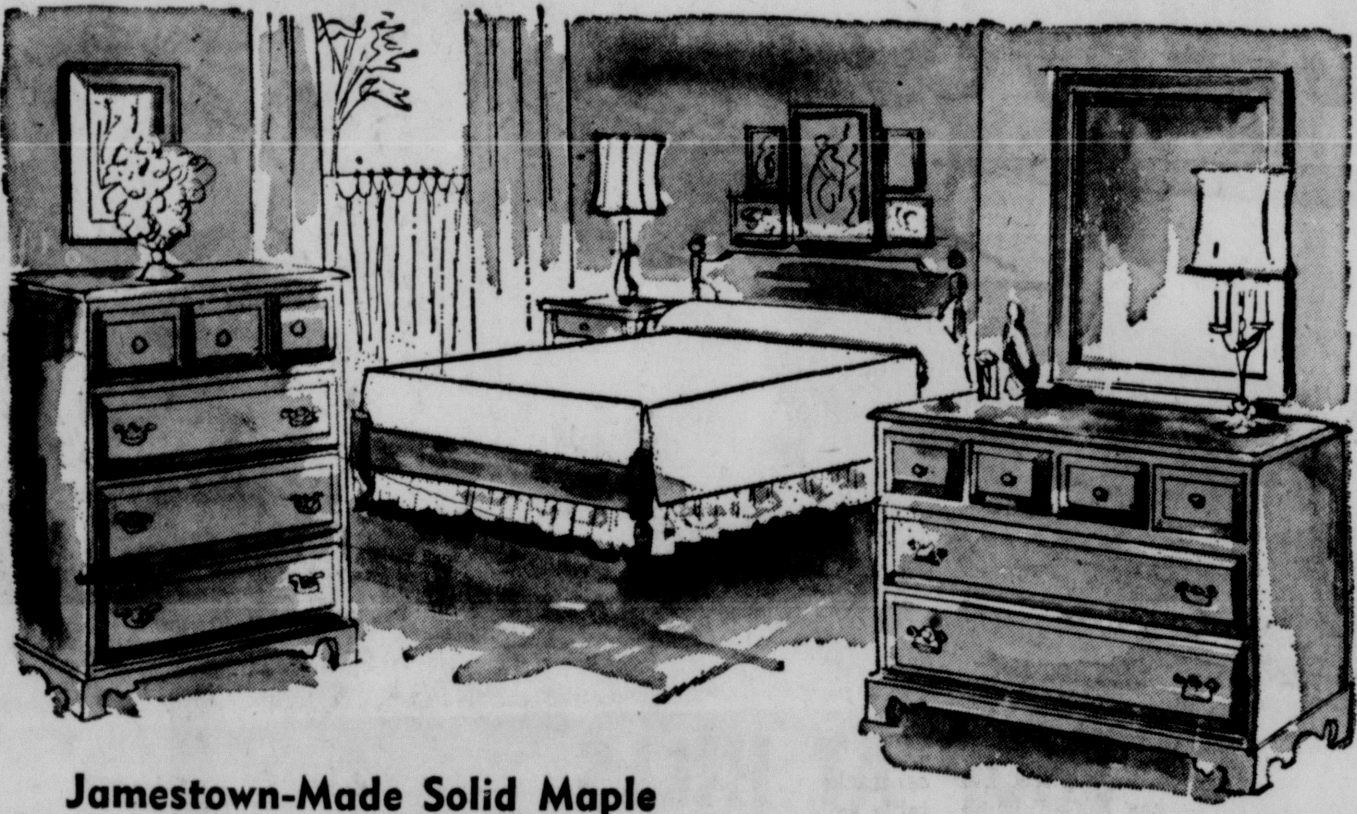

CINCINNATI (AP)—William Handmann, 77, of Cincinnati faces traffic court on charges stemming from the traffic deaths of an elderly couple. Police said Jacob and Anna Gehringer, both 83, died about two hours after being struck by Handmann's car as they crossed a street Wednesday night.

Handmann was charged with failure to yield to pedestrians. The Gehringers had celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary Tuesday night.

Whimsical Bootblack Makes Sales Pitch In 30 Languages

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A whimsical bootblack with a passion for geography and a sales pitch in many languages is one of the best-known figures at the United Nations.

For 16 years Jimmy Rinaldi has been shouting "shoeshine" in a dazzling variety of tongues as delegates pass his one-man concession.

"I can say it 30 ways now, including Burmese, Indonesian, Arabic and Swedish," said the gray-haired bootblack, pausing briefly at his stand on the fourth floor of the secretariat building.

"Every time I get a customer from a new country, I ask him how to say 'shoeshine' in his language," he added. "In the past couple of years I've picked up half a dozen African dialects."

Jimmy can name the capitals of all 110 U.N. member states plus most major cities and rivers. He likes to hash over world affairs with diplomats who patronize his stand.

"I try to find out about the economy of each country and the amount of money it is getting from the U.N.," he said. "I used to have a pretty good picture of it, but so many new nations have been starting up that I've kind of lost track."

Jimmy averages 60 shines a day at 25 cents each plus tips. He has found his trade volume a barometer on the state of the world.

"When everything is peaceful,

I get plenty of shines," he said. "If things get bad, business falls off."

The sharpest drop came during the early days of the Cuban crisis.

"It seemed like no one cared about a shine because there might not be any tomorrow," he observed.

Jimmy thinks the United Nations has done a good job keeping the missile crisis from exploding into war.

"As long as they keep talking here, there is hope," he said. "All that name-calling doesn't mean anything. But if they stop talking, look out."

Frederick Boland, former General Assembly president, stops by frequently for a shine and a chat. So does U.N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche, who likes to swap notes on fishing, Jimmy's favorite off-duty pastime.

Jimmy, a bachelor in his late 40s, lives with his mother in the Ridgewood section of Brooklyn, N.Y. He likes to spend his days off boning up on world geography or fishing when the weather is right.

He also keeps close tabs on trends in footwear.

British diplomats wear the best-made shoes, but the Americans and Italians have more of a flair for style.

To Attend Science Fair

Two hundred Salem Junior High and Senior High School students will go to Cleveland Friday to attend the Space Science Fair at Cleveland Public Hall.

Four school buses will convey the group to Cleveland, leaving here at 8:30 a.m. Accompanying the students will be Walter "Bing" Newton and Mrs. Ruth Zellers of the Junior High faculty, and Herbert Jones, high school science teacher.

In addition to viewing the NASA space exhibits, the pupils will hear lectures on space propulsion, bio-astronautics, geophysics, space mission planning, spacecraft design and aerospace instrumentation.

Newton said slides would be taken of the exhibits for showing to any Salem group that would like to see them.

President Kennedy's inaugural address contained only 1,355 words. The average of 44 previous inaugural talks was 2,499 words.

Man Goes Back To School
To Learn Reading, Writing

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

CHICAGO (AP)—Clarence Wallace took a wrong turn in the road of life when he was in the primer stage in school.

Wallace, who was born on a farm in the hill country of Tennessee, never got back to school. In time he became a common laborer. A heart condition ultimately ended his ability to lift and tote. Seven months ago he went on relief in Chicago.

Now this ruddy, beefy man of 53 is back in school. He and his classmates study at the level of the first three elementary grades. Two evenings a week they sit in straight-back wooden chairs in Room 124 in Lake View High School. They look at the teacher and, beyond, to a blackboard bearing such chalked sentences as: "The little dog will jump."

"I know figures," Wallace said, "but I can't read and write. You can't get a job if you can't even write your name."

Wallace, a bachelor, dreams of learning the first two R's and then finding a job in a plant where machines provide the muscle.

Wallace is one of 282,000 persons receiving some form of public assistance in Cook County (Chicago)—a number equal to the population of Dayton, Ohio, or Tampa, Fla.

A sampling of able-bodied relievers indicated this fall that 50,000 are functionally illiterate. They read and write so poorly, if at all, that they have little chance of getting past the application blank desk of an employment office.

Raymond M. Hilliard, director of the Cook County Department of Public Aid, found the statistics appalling.

"If the staggering burden of relief is to be reduced," he said, "it is essential that the educational level of these people be upgraded."

So the department teamed with the Board of Education in a program they call unique—evening classes in public schools, ranging through the elementary grades into high school, to get people off relief rolls and on payrolls.

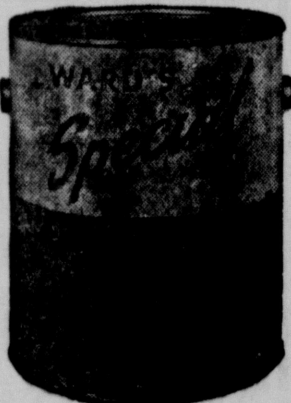

So far, 6,000 relievers have enrolled and the number is growing toward the immediate goal of 10,000 and an eventual 50,000. The staff uncovered one woman with an I.Q. of 128. Her long-range aim is a high school diploma and then college. Juan Mendez has set his sights much lower.

"I want some kind of job in factory," he said, holding up his hands as if reaching for levers. "But I don't know how work machines. I get job when I learn English better."

Mendez, 43 and small, wore a neat gray suit with the large, pointed lapels that were in vogue 10 years back. He came from Puerto Rico nine years ago and drifted to Chicago. He lost his most recent job as a steam table attendant at a Gold Coast hotel. He and his wife, he said, have "11 children and one more coming."

17 Area Cage Squads Groom For Openers This Weekend

5 Inter-County Clashes on Tap

Greenford Battles Crestview Saturday

By LYNN BROWNE

With the 1962 football season written into the pages of history, district high school athletes are tuning their abilities for the on-rushing basketball season.

Seventeen area cage squads make their debuts this weekend, nine more are slated to make their initial appearances next week and one—Mineral Ridge—opened its season last week.

Sixteen contests are on tap for this weekend with eight set for Friday and the remainder on tap Saturday.

PROBABLY THE BIGGEST change in scheduling this season is that all contests will be played on weekend nights, instead of one on a school night and one on the weekend as has been the practice for a number of years.

The change was instituted by the coaches and athletic directors at the request of the Ohio High School Principals Association.

Only one of the three district leagues will be affected by this week's action. Five tilts are on tap in the Inter-County loop while teams composing the Tri-County League and the Turnpike Conference are either idle or playing non-loop foes.

CRESTVIEW, Greenford and Mineral Ridge are each involved in two of the five league contests. Greenford and Mineral Ridge battle on the latter's home court Friday while the Rebels of Crestview battle at North Lima, also on Friday.

Saturday Greenford entertains Crestview, Mineral Ridge plays host to Lowellville and Western Reserve is on the road at McDonald.

In other games Friday the Sebring Trojans will travel to Western Reserve, Springfield Local will battle the Bulldogs of Poland at Poland, Louisville will entertain North Canton, East Palestine and Canfield get together at East Palestine, Jefferson Union will be at Salineville and the Minerva Lions will battle visiting Malvern.

FIVE OTHER GAMES will be played Saturday. The Golden Eagles of United Local will travel to Sebring to battle the Trojans, East Liverpool will be at Midland, North Lima will be at Canfield, Salineville's Indians will be on the road at Jewett and Springfield Local will invade Cardinal Mooney.

District teams playing their inaugural games next week include Lisbon, West Branch, Beaver Local, Wellsville, Salem, Columbiana, Leetonia, Jackson-Milton and Warren St. Mary's.

Chiefs Win 7th In Row, Clobber Chicago 96-87

By The Associated Press

It's beginning to look as if the Long Beach Chiefs never are going to lose in the American Basketball League.

The Chiefs, spearheaded by Ron Horn and Bill Spivey, won their seventh game without a loss Wednesday night, a 96-87 decision over the Chicago Majors in Toronto.

In the only other game of the night, the Kansas City Steers pushed over the .500 mark with a 115-96 triumph over the Oakland Oaks in Kansas City.

Horn dropped in 28 points for the Chiefs and Spivey added 27. Kelly Coleman hit for 27 for the Majors.

Thurber Walks Off With Six Awards At W. Branch Dinner

Senior Guard Tom Thurber walked off with six of the outstanding football trophy awards during the West Branch Booster Club's recognition banquet Wednesday night at the high school.

Guest speaker Ed Sherman, athletic director and head football coach of Muskingum College, told his audience, "Football is a great sport, a laboratory of learning."

Ron Dierks, Llewellyn Thompson and Bob Frederick, the West Branch coaching staff, all had Sherman as a mentor at Muskingum.

Dietzel Says Army Is Set For Middies

By BOB HOOBING

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—"Our game plan is set," says Army Coach Paul Dietzel. "We'll be ready for a whale of an effort against Navy Saturday."

"The seniors are well aware they haven't beaten Navy as varsity players," Dietzel continued today.

Not only has Army lost three straight, the Cadets have won just two of the last eight, three of the last 12.

The cause—"Beat Navy" which is printed on gigantic banners down to T-shirts—is the chief reason Dietzel was hired away from Louisiana State. The air has become charged with an electric feeling of confidence about the mission for Saturday afternoon at Philadelphia Stadium against the Middies.

"We've had our game plan set for over a week," Dietzel said. "Nothing Navy says will change our thinking."

The reference was to Navy's charge, through a letter to the Eastern College Athletic Conference that Army may be using an illegal hand-off on its kickoff return play.

"We don't knowingly teach anything illegal here," Dietzel said. "Navy is just trying to upset us with psychological warfare before the game."

THURBER WAS given trophies for being named most valuable player, best lineman, Booster Club scholastic-athletic and senior awards, three-year trophy, and a special award given by the Alliance Review.

Sophomore Jack Benner was given the "most improved" award and Charles Baxter received a trophy for being chosen the best back.

Toastmaster for the event was Rev. Clarence Sekerak.

Sherman said, "Football is an equalizer for individuals; the boy who can block and hit the hardest is the one that plays, and that is how it should be."

"Football teaches loyalty, humility, leadership, and co-operation," Sherman declared.

SHERMAN MIXED serious remarks with just enough humor to keep the keen interest of the crowd throughout his talk.

He said, "At Muskingum, we expect our athletes to behave just a little better in their classrooms and on the field."

"We don't want our kids given any special treatment, but we also don't want anything taken away from them either," Sherman commented.

In closing Sherman told the football players they had just finished a great experience. He praised West Branch Coach Ron Dierks for being dedicated to the game.

Coach Dierks pointed out that West Branch's 3-6-1 record could easily have been a 7-3 mark with a little harder work.

He felt the team did a good job under the direction of a new coaching staff this past season.

Assistant coach Frederick issued the best lineman and best back trophies. The Booster Club awards were handed out by president Bob Morrow.

HOWARD RHOADS received a three-year trophy. Two-year awards (silver footballs) were given to Jim Gerber, Gary Barber, Charles Baxter, Jon Yeagley and Phil Sharp.

Varsity cheerleaders Maralyn Shaver, Pam Christy, Carol Kinser, Cheryl Barnett, Jill Schaffer and Kathy Kile were introduced by Mrs. Sue Stroup.

Dick Donovan, a 20-game winner for the Cleveland Indians last season, turned in five shutouts.

Lakers Whip Hawks For Division Lead

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Lakers were in sole command of first place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association today after their first showdown duel with the St. Louis Hawks.

The Lakers outlasted the Hawks 116-110 Wednesday night to break a tie with St. Louis. The Lakers now show a 15-7 record to 14-8 for the Hawks.

In the only other Wednesday game, the Detroit Pistons, who had won only three games in their previous 19 starts, clobbered the New York Knickerbockers 143-101. The Knicks are in last place in the Eastern Division, the Pistons in the basement of the West.

Bucs Have Acquired 5 Players In 10 Days

Pirates' Hoak Is Swapped For Ted Savage, Herrera

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)— Second baseman Bill Mazeroski became the sole infield survivor of the Pittsburgh world championship team of 1960 today following the trade of third baseman Don Hoak on the heels of the departure of first baseman Dick Stuart and shortstop Dick Groat. The Pirates Wednesday night shipped Hoak, 34, to the Philadelphia Phillies for outfielder Ted Savage and first baseman Pancho Herrera, who was assigned to the Pirates' Columbus farm club in the International League.

Thus, within a space of 10 days, the Pirates acquired five players, all of whom figure prominently in Manager Danny Murtaugh's plans for 1963. Besides Savage, the Pittsburgh newcomers included right-handed pitchers Don Schwall and Don Cardwell, catcher Jim Pagliaroni, and infielder Julio Go-problem. Hoak dropped off 57 points to .241 in 121 games last season. He was the acknowledged leader of the Pirate infield for four years following his acquisition from the Cincinnati Reds.

Murtaugh said he planned to give Savage, 25, a right-handed hitter who batted .266 in 127 games last year a chance to break into the outfield, now comprised of Bob Skinner in left, Bill Virdon in center and Roberto Clemente in right.

Murtaugh plans to give Bob Bailey, 2, the Pirates' rookie flash who received a record $175,000 bonus two years ago, a shot at third base. The rest of the infield will be comprised of Donn Clendenon, at first base; Mazeroski at second and Dick Schofield at shortstop.

Mickey Mantle repeated as American League slugging champion in 1962 with a .605 mark. It was his fourth slugging title.

COP Player Not Bribed, Says Kaufman

NEW YORK (AP)—Did a former College of Pacific basketball player try to recruit a Utah player to shave points in basketball games?

No, says Gary Kaufman, one-time member of the College Of Pacific—now the University Of Pacific—team.

Yes, says Barry Epstein, a former Utah player.

Both testified Wednesday in the bribery trial of Jack Molinas, former Columbia University and professional star, who is charged with bribing a Bowling Green (Ohio) player to dump three games, conspiring to fix 25 other games and subornation of perjury.

Kaufman testified that Molinas attempted to get him to recruit a Utah player to shave points. The player was not identified, except that he came from Brooklyn. That also is Kaufman's home town.

Kaufman said Molinas made the proposition in Salt Lake City, Dec. 23, 1959, following a College Of Pacific game against Utah. However, Kaufman said, he never made the contact. Utah won the game, but Kaufman scored 27 points.

Epstein testified that he met Kaufman the same night before the game. Kaufman, he said, told him he could make money by shaving points. They met again after the game, Epstein continued, and Kaufman told him he might be contacted by a man named "Joe."

Epstein identified "Joe" from a photograph as Joseph Hacken, who has been named a co-conspirator in the case.

Hacken, Epstein said, contacted him several times asking him if he knew anyone willing to shave points. Epstein said he was non-committal until the following summer when he gave Hacken a flat "no."

The Los Angeles Angels came from behind 35 times in late innings to win American League games last season. Eighteen of the wins came on their final turn at bat.

Gaydos Named MVP At Beaver Local Dinner

George Gaydos, a three-year letterman, was awarded the most valuable player award and the best offensive player trophy when the Beaver Local Booster Club feted the 1962 grid squad, coaches and cheerleaders last night at the high school.

Also receiving awards were Dave Myers, who was voted the best defensive lineman; Gary Berhar, best offensive lineman; Larry McLaughlin, best defensive back; Roger Walker, most improved varsity player; and Warren Bradley, the most improved reserve player.

THE AWARDS WERE presented by Head Coach Jack O'Rourke, who also presented letters to varsity and reserve grid-ders, aided by his assistant mentors Tom McCall, Norman Allison, Floreal Suarez and John Pape.

In a short talk prior to making the awards, O'Rourke told the near-capacity crowd that he considered this team "the greatest team in this history of the school" even though their 7-3 season mark was not the best recorded.

"THE BOYS PLAYED hard-nosed football all season," he said. "It was a pleasure working with them." Highlight of the Beavers season was their 16-12 victory over the East Liverpool Potters. Miss Cheryl Schleiter, cheerleader adviser, spoke briefly on the things accomplished by the girls to date and listed other goals yet to be accomplished and then introduced her charges.

VARSITY cheerleaders are Judy Allen, Donna Chuck, Judy Barnhart, Terry Holden and Judy Sheppard while Carla Blazer, Paulette Kapp, Carolyn Lesko, Sheri Lynch and Marie Tychonovich make up the reserve group. Charles Donaldson, line coach at West Virginia University, was the main speaker of the evening and emphasized to the grid-ders the importance of a college education.

"When I was young it was hard to get a good job without a high school education and things have gone up a notch now," he explained. "Now it's hard to get a good job unless you have a college degree."

DONALDSON MADE IT clear that he doesn't believe the colleges are becoming so crowded that all students who want to attend aren't able to. "There will be a place for everyone who wants to go to college," he said. "And the books are there for you to get all you want to out of."

Players who received letters at last night's banquet are as follows:

FIRST YEAR AWARDS: John Aliulis, Warren Bradley, Peter

Burnett, John Riddle, Dennis Horger, Larry Maple, Jim McLaughlin, Dave Miller, Floyd Saltsman, Richard Shearer, Phillip Silliman, Jim Smith, Roger Walker and Dick Whittington.

Second year awards: Gary McKinney and Larry McLaughlin. Third year awards: Gary Bookman and George Gaydos. Fourth year award: Dave Myers.

RESERVE GRIDDERS getting awards were: Don Barborak, Bill Bryan, Tom Burnett, Al Copestick, Dennis Dailey, Ed Derenburger, Arthur Doak, Richard Downard, Bill Green, Bill Crimes, Joe Hoppel, Tom Kidder, Jeff Lane, Bob Lerussi, Michael Lynn.

Rich Miller, Jim Moffett, Dale Moore, Bill Osborn, Roy Peters, Chuck Pickens, Adam Pickens, Jerry Rambo, Farnum Shasteen, Marion Sias, Bill Smith, Ben Springer, Dave Williams, Dick Wright, and Bob Vincent.

Receiving manager awards were Ken Crane, Ken Cunningham, John Detcheo, Dick Rudibaugh and John Williams.

50 Golfers Tee Off At Palm Beach Today

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A glittering field of more than 50 tees off today in the 72-hole $20,000 West Palm Beach Open Golf Tournament.

The presence of Jack Nicklaus, U.S. Open winner; Bo Wininger, who captured last week's Orlando Open; Doug Sanders, Dow Finsterwald and other top pros confounded pre-tournament efforts to pick a favorite.

Nicklaus thrilled a pro-amateur tourney gallery Wednesday with putts of 20 and 25 feet but settled for 70 on the 6,800-yard par 36-36 72 West Palm Beach Country Club layout.

Mark My Word

By MARK W. MILLER

Parma Valley Forge will enter Salem Dec. 15. The Patriots are coached by John Broski who gained fame as a basketball mentor at Cleveland East Tech.

Salem lost only two games during the 1959 campaign, both to Broski's Scarabs. Mid-way through the season East Tech trimmed the Quakers 68-59, then in the state finals at Columbus, the Cleveland school dealt the Red and Black a 71-51 setback.

Broski again may have the horses to take another team to Columbus, only this time with Valley Forge.

Three of the players on his 1962-63 varsity roster stand 6-6, 6-5 and 6-4.

SALEM HIGH COACH John Cabas has a pair of 6-5 athletes he has been working with during the practices thus far. One of the prospects, Bob King, saw considerable action during the 1961-62 campaign.

Most of the teams in the Ohio Big 8 basketball conference this year have at least one boy 6-6 or taller. Canton McKinley, Salem's Feb. 16th opponent here, has a pair of 6-6 prospects.

The Quakers will open their season against Columbus East Dec. 8. The Tigers have a veteran team that will appear here, with three of their starters towering 6-4, 6-4 and 6-3.

MIAMI'S JOHNNY PONT, who will be guest speaker at the Salem football banquet Dec. 8, is reported among the leading candidates for the coaching vacancy at Vanderbilt.

Pont led the Redskins to a 9-1 record this season, and the impressive mark got Miami an invitation to appear in the Tangerine Bowl against Houston Dec. 22.

Tom Dahms, former Salem grid star, was one of 33 players to receive a varsity award from Wooster football coach Phil Shippe at the Scots' annual fall sports banquet recently.

Gordon Scott and John Hendron recently completed a four-day bowling instructors school at Recreation Lanes in Canton.

Joe Wilman conducted the school with students being awarded patches and certificates at the conclusion of the program. The school is recognized by ABC and is sponsored by the Brunswick Corporation.

A total of 1,102 teams has made reservations for the Women's State Bowling Tournament scheduled to start at Warren Feb. 2. Deadline for entries is Dec. 15.

The Cleveland Browns have played before crowds of 80,000 twice this season. They won the opener before 81,115 by trimming New York 17-7, then lost to Baltimore 36-14 while 80,132 watched. The smallest crowd to see Cle-

Staubach Will Direct Navy Against Army

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Navy will peg its offensive hopes against Army Saturday on a sophomore quarterback who watched last year's game from the stands with butterflies fluttering in his stomach.

Roger Staubach says the butterflies will still be there, perhaps more active than ever.

"I have them before every game," he said. "But after the first play I'm all right."

The Cincinnati, Ohio, youngster, 20, is one of the most highly rated sophomores Navy ever has taken into the service classic at Philadelphia.

But both Staubach and his coach, Wayne Hardin, have no doubt about his ability to get the job done.

"Staubach probably has proven himself under fire more times than any other sophomore I've coached," Hardin said this week.

He included in that category halfback Joe Bellino, who also started the Army game as a sophomore, and went on to win the Heisman Trophy in his senior year (1960) as the nation's outstanding college football player. But Hardin said only time will tell whether Staubach will measure up to Bellino in his later stages.

Staubach, a star in high school at Cincinnati Purcell and in junior college at New Mexico Military Institute, started the season as Navy's No. 3 quarterback.

He moved ahead of senior Ron Klemick and junior Bruce Abel after Navy had lost two of its first three games, in which Staubach played only three minutes.

Lowellville's Santillo Named Class A Coach of Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—John McHugh of Toledo Central Catholic's state champions today was named Ohio's Class AA high school coach of the year in the annual Associated Press poll.

The Class A honors went to John Santillo of Lowellville (Mahoning County) who has led his Rockets to four unbeaten seasons in a row.

McHugh, 30-year-old Notre Dame graduate who was known as "Touchdown Tommy" when he graduated at Central Catholic a dozen years ago, succeeds Midletown's Glenn (Tiger) Ellison as the No. 1 Class AA mentor. Santillo succeeds Ken Herman of Fostoria St. Wendelin.

In seven years at the Central Catholic helm, McHugh has compiled a 50-16-3 record culminated by 10 straight this season for the state title and the Rutgers Hall of Fame Trophy. He took over the head coaching job in 1956 after a year as coach of the lightweight contingent.

McHugh is married to his high school sweetheart and has two children, Kathleen 3, and Kevin 1. He played in the North-South all-star game, and spent a year with Toronto in the Canadian league where a back injury forced his retirement.

Santillo, also 30, is a graduate of Youngstown East High and ored his retirement.

Santillo, also 30, is a graduate of Youngstown East High and Mississippi State. He took over the Lowellville berth in 1956 after the Rockets had a six-year record of 10-36-2 and was considering giving up football. In his six seasons—after a couple of lean ones at the start—he has compiled a 35-13-2 mark.

Warren's Ben Wilson finished second in the Class AA balloting by sports writers, coaches and officials. Ellison, with the flashiest offense in the state, was third, and Bob Lewis of Wyoming—whose team shut out 10 straight foes this year—was fourth.

First National Is Awarded Forfeit

Salem Tech Rips Shaffer's; Coca Cola Nips Applegate's

Six players scored in double figures as Salem Technical School trounced Shaffer Ford 98-20 in City Basketball League competition at the Memorial Building Wednesday night.

Coca Cola rallied in the fourth quarter to nip Applegate's in another contest, and First National Bank was awarded a forfeit.

Salem Tech raced to a 15-5 first quarter lead, increased its margin to 34-9 by intermission and held a commanding 55-15 lead at the end of the third session.

Chamberlain collected 20 markers for the winners. He was followed by Breniser, 18; Lutton, 14; Conser, 12; Harshman, 11 and Lendak 10.

All 10 players to see action for the winners made the scoring column. It was the third victory in a row for Salem Tech.

Ronnie Pugh chalked up nine points for Shaffer Ford. Bill Weber had eight markers. The losers are now 0-3 for the campaign.

Coca Cola posted its first win in two starts, while handing Applegate's its third straight loss. The winners took a 23-17 lead at the end of the initial period and held a 35-31 margin at half time. The losers took a 49-46 lead at the end of the third session. Coca Cola outscored Applegate's 18-13 in the final frame.

Billingsley led Coca Cola with 17 points. Wilt had 14 and Saffkow 13. Tanner took scoring honors for Applegate's with 28 markers. Lee chalked up 11 for the losers.

Browns' Ross Fichtner Has 7 Pass Interceptions Thus Far

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ross Fichtner, in his third season with the Cleveland Browns, is seeing regular action for the first time and is doing a bang-up job with the defensive team.

But Fichtner showed strong improvement. "He spots what's developing in a hurry," Brinker said. "He's coming along fast this season and I think you'll find he'll continue to get better."

He has seven pass interceptions to his credit—putting him second in the National Football League in this department. He has proved versatile, moving from his regular spot at right safety to fill in when needed on the left side.

Howard Brinker, defensive coach, considers him "a smart, aggressive player."

Why did he spend most of the time on the bench his first two years with the Browns? "We may have underestimated Ross a bit," said Brinker. He said, the former Purdue quarterback back was with the College All Stars in 1960 and got a late start. "He was so eager to make the team he looked a bit awkward. His feet would get tangled and he even fell down a couple of times."

Young Intern Who Refused To Aid Woman Defended

CLEVELAND (AP) — Officials of a hospital in suburban Richmond Heights have come to the defense of a young intern who declined a police plea to aid a woman badly hurt in an accident just outside the hospital.

The intern, Dr. Edward Pearson, watched from the Richmond Heights Hospital window as rescue workers tried to free Mrs. Gertrude Millard, 38, of Euclid, trapped for 30 minutes in her car Tuesday night. The car had rammed a utility pole.

As far as James C. Gliemmo, hospital administrator, is concerned, it boils down to the fact that Dr. Pearson does not have a license to practice medicine since he has not yet passed the Ohio State Medical Board examination. The intern treats hospital patients only under orders of a licensed physician.

Dr. Pearson could have been guilty of illegal practice outside the hospital, Gliemmo said, adding that if the intern had disregarded hospital rules on this subject and if the patient did not survive, Dr. Pearson would have no protection against damage suits.

Furthermore, Dr. Pearson was the only doctor in the hospital and was responsible for 75 patients, Gliemmo said. Had he left his post and had an emergency arisen while he was out, there would have been criticism of him and the hospital and possibly even legal action, the administrator declared.

Dr. Pearson waited until he could contact a superior before going to Mrs. Millard's aid. A team of doctors worked over the woman all night at the hospital, and she was reported in critical condition Wednesday night with chest injuries.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

A fellow came in this morning. He said he always thought when a person was doing what was right he was too busy to be criticizing someone else.

We cannot build ourselves up in the eyes of others by trying to show the faults of some one else. It's a lot easier than doing good ourselves but not nearly so effective.

We suggest that since we have made so many changes here at the Country Store that you come out and give us a chance to serve you.

S.S.A. Steak Dinner Winner:
Helen Kimble, Columbiana, Ohio

Questions—Answers

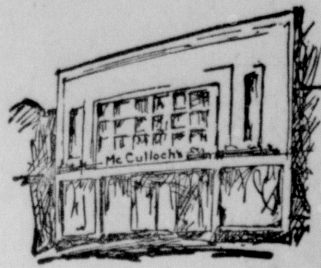

Q—How do television waves travel?
A—In straight lines.

Q—Who were the Lake Poets of England?
A—William Wordsworth, Samuel Coleridge and Robert Southey were so named because they lived as neighbors in the lake country of northern England.

Q—When was the American Legion organized?
A—In 1919.

LITTLE LIZ

McCulloch's

GOING ON
McCULLOCH'S

THE BIG TREE with its twinkling white lights is up, the toys are in the east window with Mac the Clown hovering over them, the store is decked in scarlet and green and gold and there is a warm glow over it all that means just one thing—Christmas is near.

THE MAGIC, the wonderful fairy tale magic that comes just once a year and touches every one, old as well as young, with its gentle beauty is with us again.

HERE AT McCulloch's we are as ready as can be with lots of merchandise, with good (we hope) suggestions and perhaps a hint of what a special friend might like to see with your card on it Christmas morning.

YOU MIGHT just want to start the gift list with the male members and that department is just at your right as you come in our front doors. The attractive tables are arranged for your convenience — one with gift suggestions of all sorts, a grouping for you to pick that special man something he might not buy for himself; then a table of the best looking sweaters you ever did see — and so marvelously easy to care for; all types of shirts, dress or sport; vests (aren't you glad they are so popular?) toiletries.

THERE IS A fine selection of cards, gift wrappings and ribbons nearby, too. The girls at the foot of the mezzanine stairs will gift wrap for you and also issue Plaid Stamps. Save with Plaid Stamps! Haven't you found them easy and simple and quick?

THEN ON TO the Children's Dept.—first the Infants. Such a variety of dear things for the tiniest angels. One of the favorites are the two piece sets with corduroy pants and little smock-like tops at $4.98 — they are adorable!

THE BOYS DEPT. is next and there is a particularly good selection of jackets, sweaters, pajamas, shirts. Across the aisle is the Girls Dept.—blouses, sweaters, holiday dresses to delight her.

THE SPORTSWEAR and Ready To Wear Depts. are well equipped to make selections easier for you. The former has pastel co-ordinates that are so lovely and so very versatile they shorten your list in a hurry. While you are looking at dresses in Ready To Wear you might look at the Junior line and the Jr. Petites—oh, and the robes are there, too.

BACK UP the other aisle is Foundations and next to it Lingerie — Beautiful, feminine "these are the things dreams are made of" items.

PURSES, gloves — we have them in a price range to please — then hosiery, always an appreciated gift. The shades are prettier than ever, hosiery is better than ever; the gift BOXES are even more attractive.

ACCESSORIES and Cosmetics are next and then Costume Jewelry. What a lot of fun it is to shop here — what a wealth of good ideas!

SPEAKING OF IDEAS — have you visited our Trim A Tree Shop? If you'd like a pert little angel we have it—if you want an ornament of a new design, we have it—we have the trees to put them on, too.

OUR Downstairs Store is all set — TOYLAND IS THERE!

TRIMARAN TRAVELER — San Francisco publisher Arthur L. Piver, left, stands on deck of the Lodestra, a 35-foot trimaran, in the harbor at Auckland, New Zealand, after a 10,000-mile, two-month voyage with two crewmen across the Pacific Ocean from San Francisco via Hawaii and Tahiti. Designed and built by Piver, the Lodestra is powered only by sail except for a small outboard motor used for entering and leaving port areas.
